This is the story of a year.
A means of isolating
a space in time
within the confines
of a hardbound cover

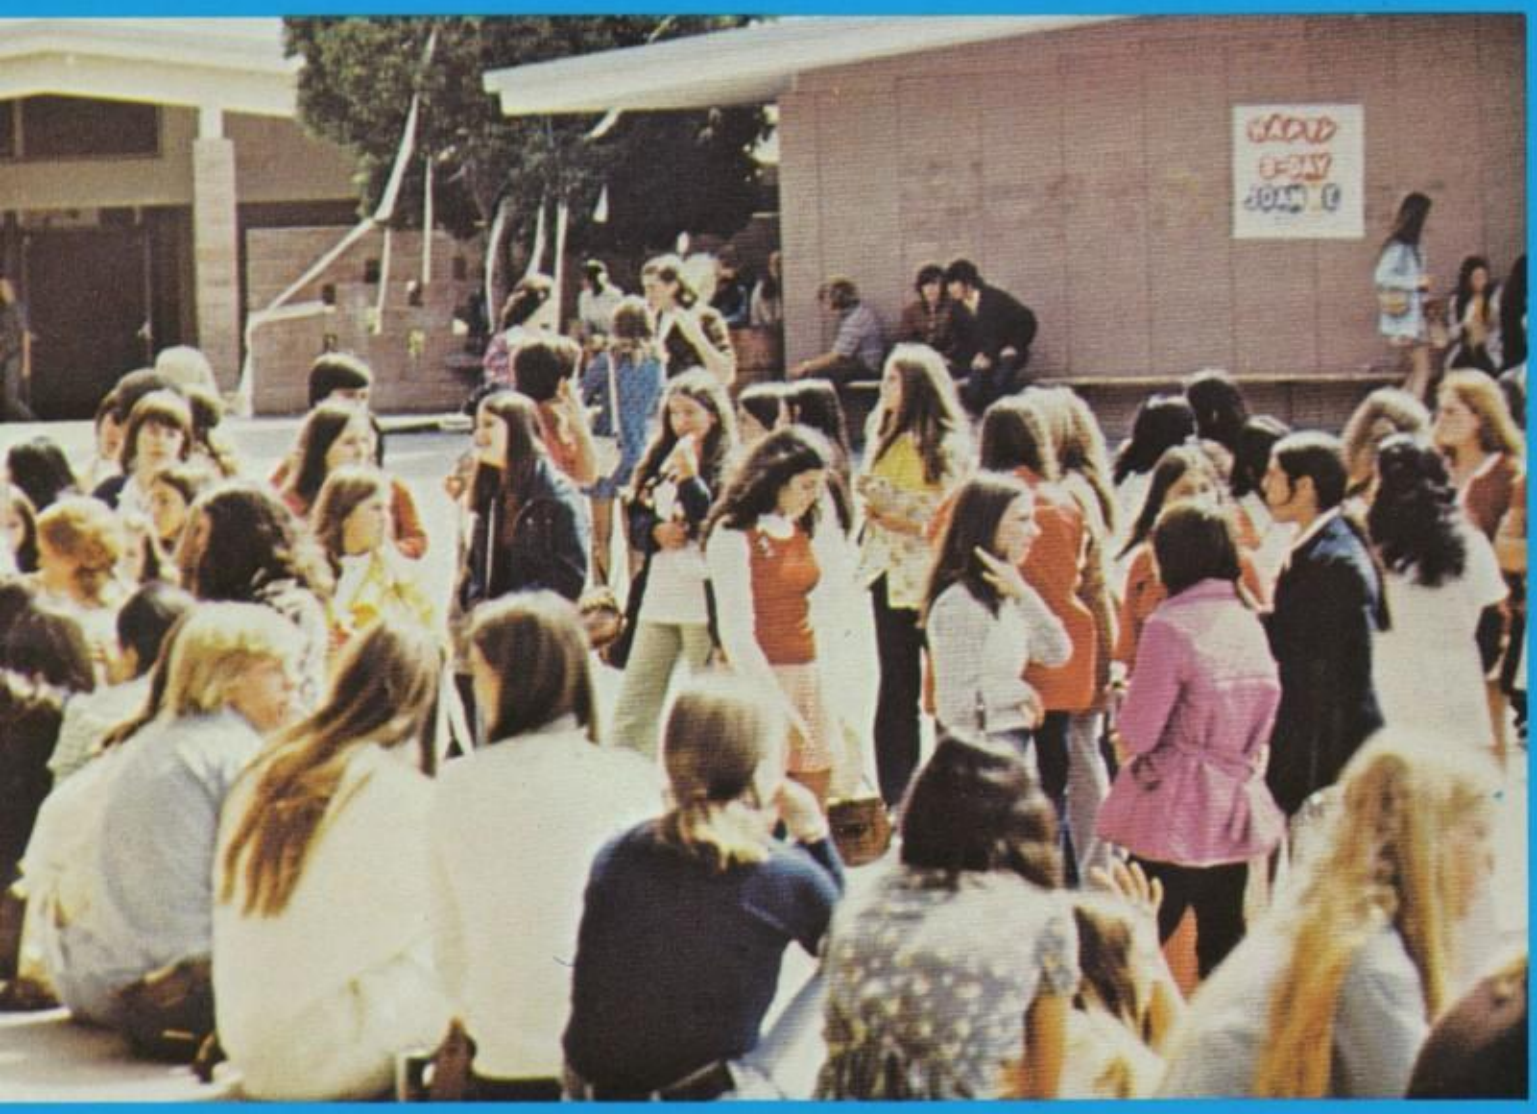
To some, the year's activities meant being instilled with the importance of responsibility and the personal growth of leadership. Others came face to face with the challenge of competition, some were seemingly lost in a year of apathy and disinterest.



But for most,
achievement
was the goal.
For achievement
liberates us
from ignorance, and frees us
from isolation.
However, it is not only academic achievements that are important, but personal achievements also.
A sense of achievement
varies with each individual talent and each individual interest.

Don gridders face challenging season

"The best offense is a good defense." Unfortunatly Coach John Woodall's defense collapsed at times and his "best offense" never fully matured.

The Don's defense made an outstanding start by shutting out Menlo School 10-0. Senior Mike Marsden's 60 yard TD run provided action for an otherwise sluggish offense as the Dons bowed to Menlo Atherton 20-7.

The situation got worse when the hilltoppers were shredded by the Woodside gridders in a 32-0 loss. "We couldn't do a thing all day" remarked Coach Woodhall.

Diligent practice failed to pay off for the Dons as three successive penalties in Palo Alto territory led to a scoreless tie.

Behind only 7-0 in the third period, San Carlos faithfuls hoped for an upset but Cubberly exploded for 20 points as the Dons lost for the third time in their last four games. Considering that Cubberly had scored 129 points in their last two games, the Don defense showed outstanding strength holding the Cougars to only 20 points.

The Ravenswood game was a day for the "All leaguers" to show their talent. With guard Henry Ehlers blocking, back Jeff Hanson went for over one hundred yards rushing. Defensive back Pete Snyder intercepted a pass and scored, as the Dons downed Ravenswood 27-12.

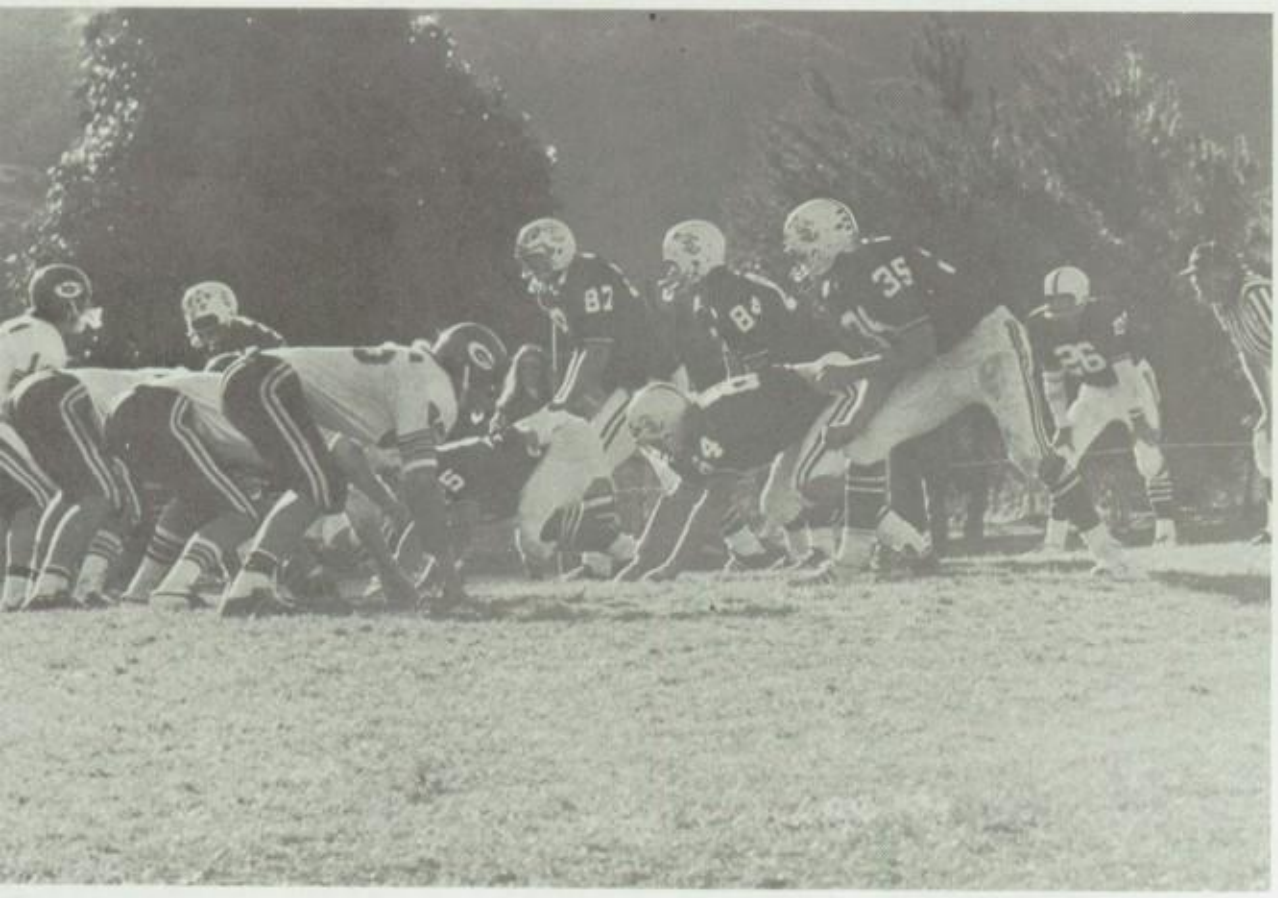
Hilltop hopes hampered

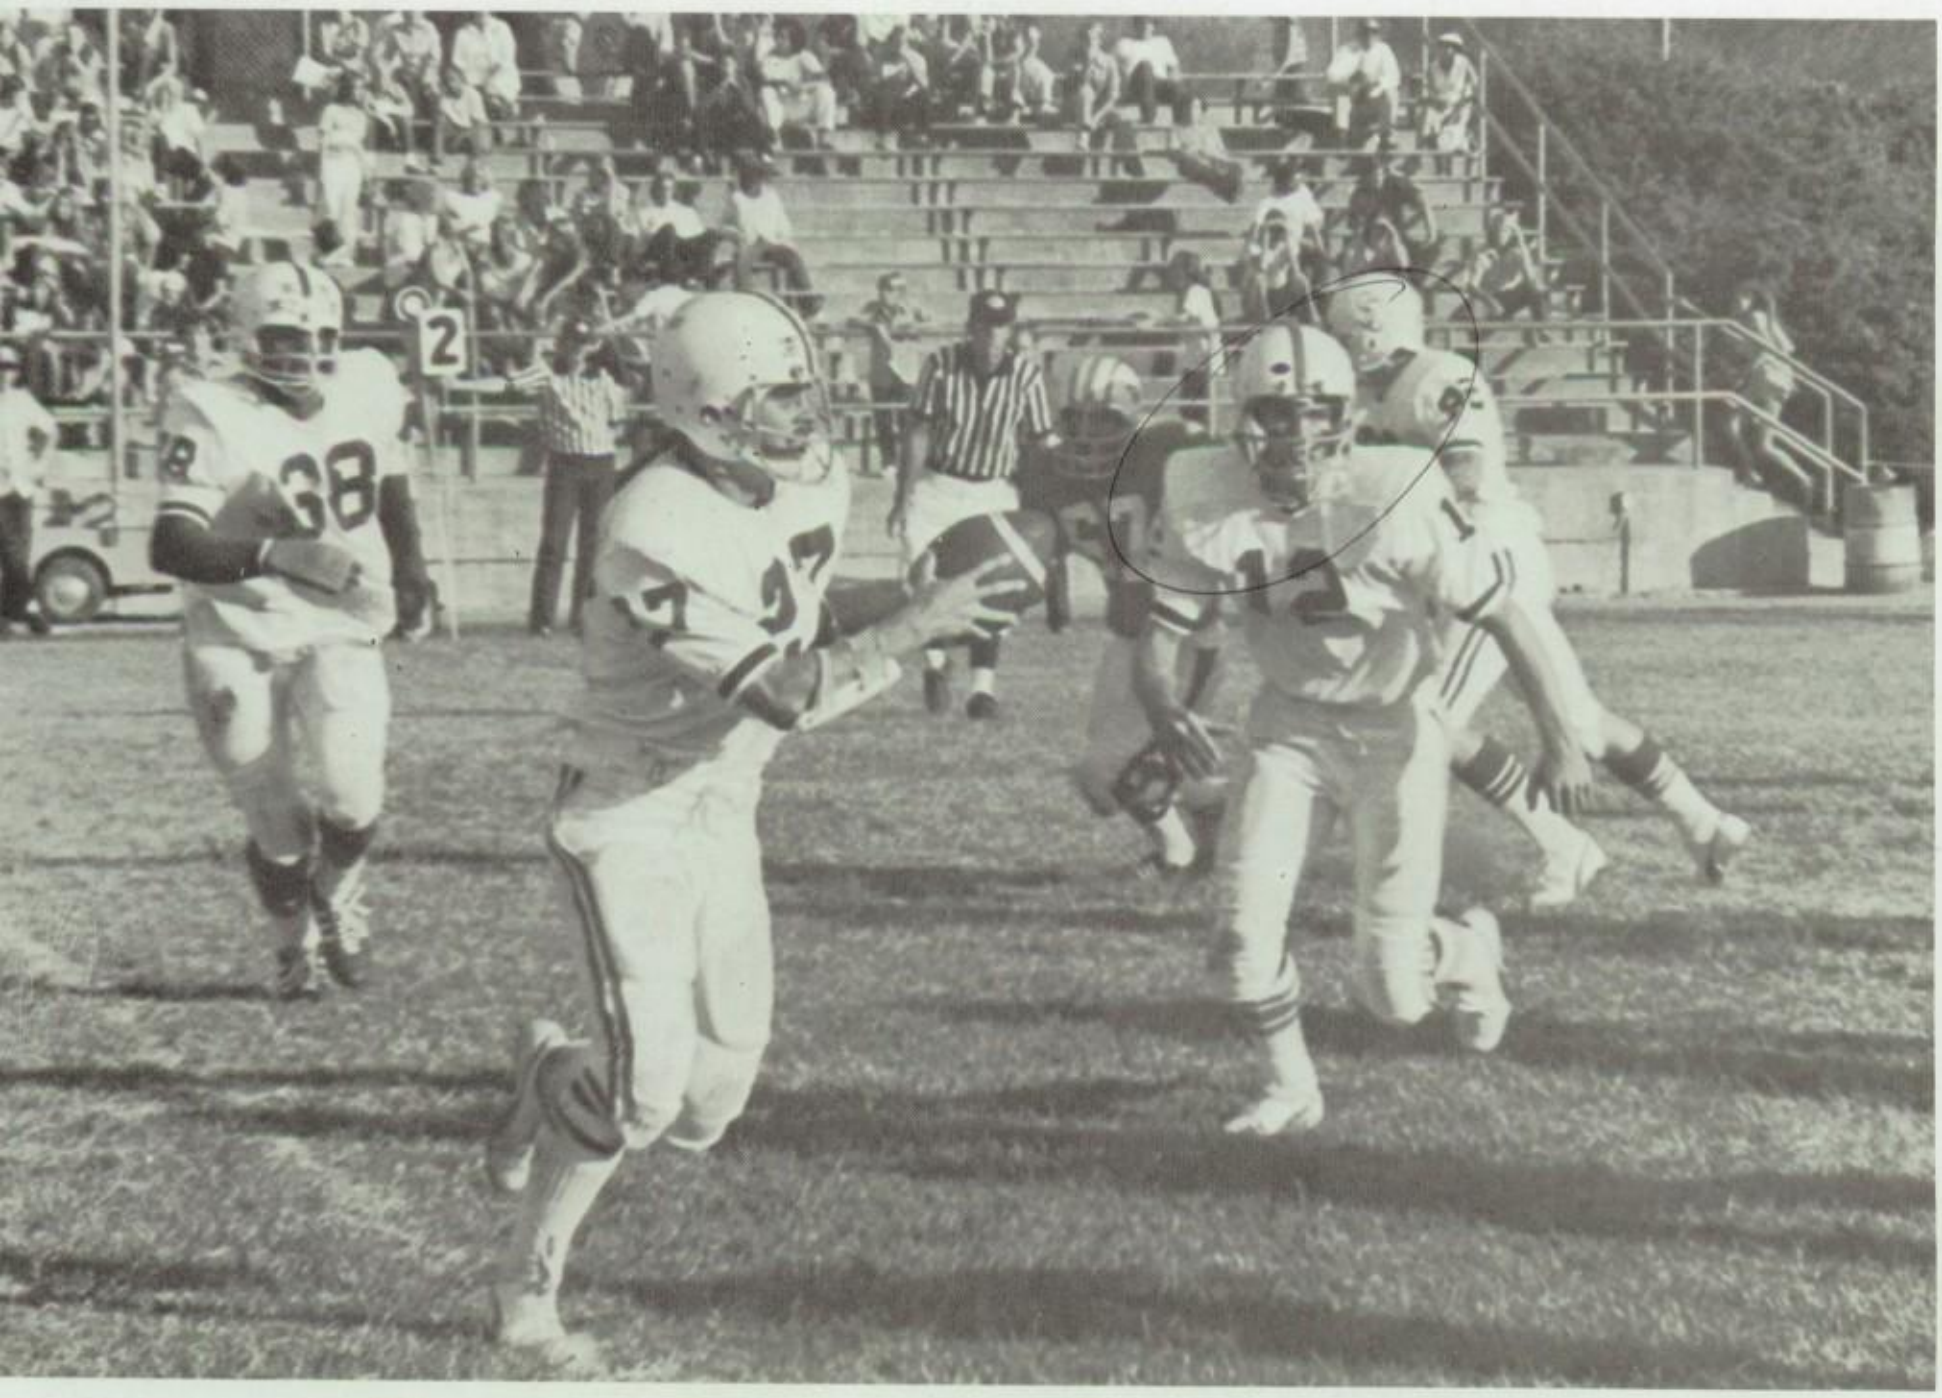


San Carlos cheers turned into groans of dispair as the ball was fumbled at the Gunn five yard. A Gunn player recovered the ball and ran for a TD which helped to end the Don's modest winning streak.

Reinhold Gartner's onside kick helped enable the Hilltoppers to put fourteen points on the board in ten plays as SC went on to upset Sequoia 23-18.

The homecoming match against Carlmont was quite a battle for the first three quarters even though the Dons trailed 14-6. A fumbled punt started SC on a downhill trend as they eventually lost 27-6.

Coach Woodhall is looking forward to next season when he hopes that the Don's defense will be improved.



Homecoming Week sparked with spirit

The 1973 homecoming week activities were received with unexpected enthusiasm and participation by the San Carlos student body.

On Monday, a pie eating and cake decorating contest got the lively week off to a delicious start. Twelve Homecoming Queen nominees were introduced during a short noon announcement.

Tuesday saw the campus flirts trying to capture the title of Mr. Irresistible by attempting to charm closed mouthed ladies into uttering just one little word. Tuesday also included voting for Homecoming Queen

A mini-rally was held Wednesday with hopes of promoting spirit and an atmosphere of festivity. Homecoming Queen finalists, Maria Salamanca, Liz Thomson, Michele Murphy, Alice Antine, Diane Johnson and Page Howell were announced.

On Thursday the tables were turned as hopefulls for the Ms. Irresistible title tried to lure the men on campus into breaking their vows of silence.

Ever wonder what a girl looks like in a football jersey? SC students soon found out as football players gave their jerseys to the girl of their choice on Thursday.

SC spirit, "Sky High"

The week built up to an exciting climax on Friday, the day of the big game.

Friday was one day of the year when everyone wanted to come to school early; they didn't want to miss the pancakes, orange juice, and coffee at the homecoming breakfast.

Sign painting was just one of the many class competitions scheduled for homecoming week.

Members of all classes waded through paint cans and dirty paint brushes in an effort to win the sign painting competition. After much work and a little drying time the walls of the gym were lined with colorful and inspiring posters.

The Friday afternoon exchange rally with Carlmont saw the jampacked San Carlos stands rocking with excitement. We yelled until we lost our voices, clapped until our hands were numb, and stamped our feet until it seemed as though the entire gym would collapse from the thundering sounds of spirit from within.

In short, we were "psyched". The events of the week, combined with a feeling of unity sparked an exuberant spirit that San Carlos had not experienced in many years.

A good time was had by all at the homecoming dance held in the MU room immediately following the game.

It is no understatement to say that homecoming week 1973 was one of the most exciting for it involved participation by more people than any other week of the year.

Homecoming fans disappointed

The best way to describe homecoming night with Carlmont would be to say that it was once again, a disappointing affair.

In a game that had nothing but pride at stake for the Dons, the Varsity Football squad continued to beat themselves with costly mistakes.

By halftime, Carlmont had jumped to a 14 point lead and San Carlos had still failed to score. During the fourth quarter, the Dons finally got on the scoreboard. On a fourth down play, Don quarterback, Bob Heatherington, threw a pass that connected with halfback, Jeff Hansen. Hansen took the ball to the Scot one, and in an ensuing play, took the ball over the goaline for six points.

With the score 14-6 and ten minutes left in the game, there was still enough time for the Dons to come back and defeat the Scots.

The Scots scored their third TD of the night with a fourteen yard scoring run recovered from a fumble on the Don 20.

Holding a score of 21-6, the Scots added one more score to close out the Hilltoppers' chances of victory.

Defense dominated play throughout the J. V. game as third ranked Dons fought it out with the first place Scots.

The Dons upset heavily favored Carlmont in a 7-6 victory; with 38 seconds remaining in the game the Scots threatened on the Don 2 yard line. Holding a 7-6 advantage, the San Carlos defense was out to the test as they forced the Scots into a fourth and goal situation.

On the crucial fourth down play, the Carlmont quarterback dropped back to pass and, under heavy Don rushing, threw wildly. SC cornerback Vince Gritch grabbed the errant toss with a diving interception.

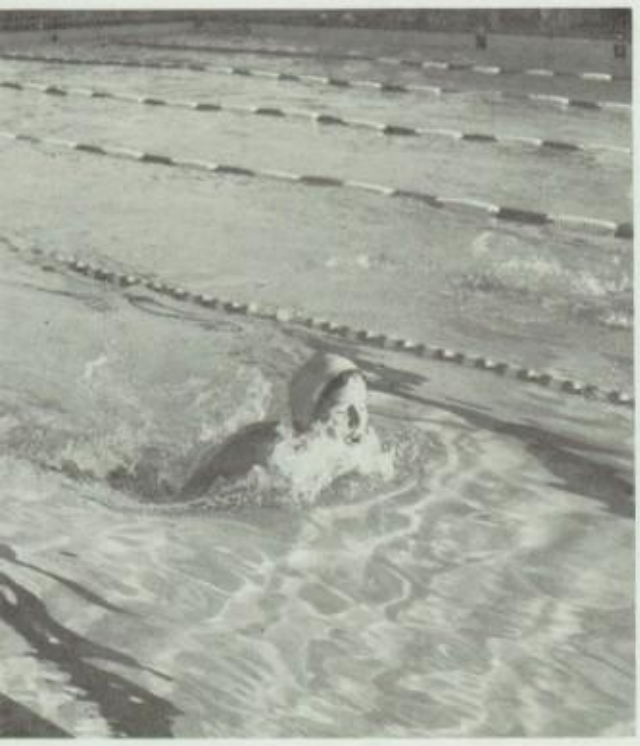
Three records broken by SC girls



With 3 SPGAL records broken by participants, and final meets held at San Carlos High, SC girls' swim team had an exciting season.

In the finals, Freshman Debbie Mancini clocked 27:0 in the 50 yard freestyle and 2:08.0 in the 200 yard freestyle. Lori Serrano, Kim Ashby, Lori Warner and Debbie Mancini finished at 58.9 in the 100 yard medley relay, resulting in 3 new SPGAL records for the Dons.

Coach Darlene Keith and managers Cyndi Friedrich, Kim Ashby and Lori Serrano had their hands full with the qualifying and final meets, but all went successfully.

Unfortunately, bad luck and good competition left the Dons in last place, "Although the season was poor," Miss Keith stressed "the girls were not too disappointed because they worked hard to put on both the SPGAL qualifying and final meets here at SC."

Miss Keith describes the team as "eager, enthusiastic, and willing to work hard." She hopes more girls will come out for the team in 1974.

C's and D's triumph once more

In a season that will long be remembered for its fiercely contested battles, the San Carlos lightweight basketball teams emerged once again with winning records.

Although few individual stars were apparent, the Don C and D squads were typified by both a strong offense and defense. This enabled both teams to bring reserve players off the bench without effecting their strong playing.

Finishing their season with a 6-2 record, the C's ended in a three way tie for first place after leading in SPAL standing for most of the season.

Tennis team young, enthusiastic

This year the San Carlos girls' tennis team discovered that it takes more than just enthusiasm to produce a successful team.

Although the team's record of 0-8 was poor Coach Judy Basich predicts, "we'll have a better team next year." Coach Basich will be depending on a more experienced squad with added depth from players moving up from the junior varsity team.

Providing strength for a solid team next year will be Nancy Hunter and Sally Drach, along with Liz Hunter and Lynn Lomas heading the doubles matches.

Coach Basich noted, "The girls were taught the basic skills, strategy, and psychology of the tennis game" Outstanding players this season were freshmen Nancy Hunter, Laura Phillips, Debbie Walsh and Gisa Bigeh. Junior Sally Drach and senior Mary Talor also gave impressive performances in the singles division.

Pam Swan and Liz Hunter held the firs doubles spot with Lynn Lomas second in the doubles division. Coach Basich summed up the team this way, "They've been the bes group of girls I've ever worked with."

Chet the Jet,

I know you have the potential to become a great basketball player if you'd just quit fighting yourself. I know if you just take it easy you could be awfully great (NO BS).

You're a great guy and I know you'll go far in life. Take care and thanks for being such a good friend for the past couple of years.

Women's lib, Dogpatch style

Women's lib was the order of the evening on October 20 as over 200 Sadies dragged their guys to the annual Dogpatch bash.

With streamers, balloons and haystacks the MU room was transformed into a hillbilly's delight, Marrying Sam and all. Over 75 couples received vows and rings from Hilltop Justice of the Peace, Terry Wilson.

Couples came donned in their best cut-offs, overalls, and long johns. Some industrious Daisy Mays designed matching outfits for themselves and their dates.

The band, Gorpus Cactus, did not include a fiddle player or a square dance caller, but they gave the Hilltop crew good reason to tap their feet.

Through the hard work of a handful of diligent committee members, the Sadie Hawkins hoe down was one of the most successful and enjoyable that this school has ever had.

Poloists capture second place

In it's best season ever, the San Carlos Varsity Water Polo Team captured second place in the S.P.A.L. standings.

The Dons got off to a slow start losing two of their first three games due to lack of players. However, starting with their fourth game, SC began their amazing seven game winning streak led by the offensive ability of Larry Spear, Geoff Heard, Mike Fennelley, and Ramon Diaz. A strong defense was led by goalie Steve Gyselbrecht, and the best guard in the league, Rick Helvey.

San Carlos lost the Championship game to Menlo Atherton in double overtime. The score was 3-3 at the end of regulation play and the entire SC first team had fouled out.

Throughout the season Spear, Fennelley, Heard, Helvey, and Diaz scored over 20 goals each which qualified them as the best balanced scoring team in the league.

The outlook for the future of the Varsity Water Polo Team is excellent. With the help of Jim Dupree, Mark Magulac, and John Hirsekorn returning starters Diaz, Spear, and Fennelley will have their best chance yet to capture the S.P.A.L. crown next year.

The San Carlos Junior Varsity Water Polo Team finished second in S.P.A.L. standings with a record of 8-4, behind a very strong Woodside squad that ended the season with a 12-0 record.

Outstanding players for the Dons were scoring leader Peter Hale and goalie Jim Fennelley.

The season began slowly for the SC mermen as they dropped two of their first three games. Then the team began to click. Jim Fennelley played well as goalie and Bjorn Sandberg became one of the best guards in the league. Peter Hale and John Tiedman supplied the offensive attack and goals needed to win.

During the second round of action the Don team came back to avenge previous losses to Carlmont and Palo Alto thus securing a second place finish.

Murder, suspense, and the perfect crime were featured in the Hilltop Players fall production of "Columbo." Junior Brian Storey was cast in the role of Lieutenant Columbo, a seemingly bumbling but effective detective.

Senior Paul Sandberg played Dr. Ray Fleming and Junior Candy Lawson portrayed his rich wife, Clare. Appearing as assorted murderers, victims and suspects were Junior Jan Neville, Senior Andee Wolper and Keith Smith.

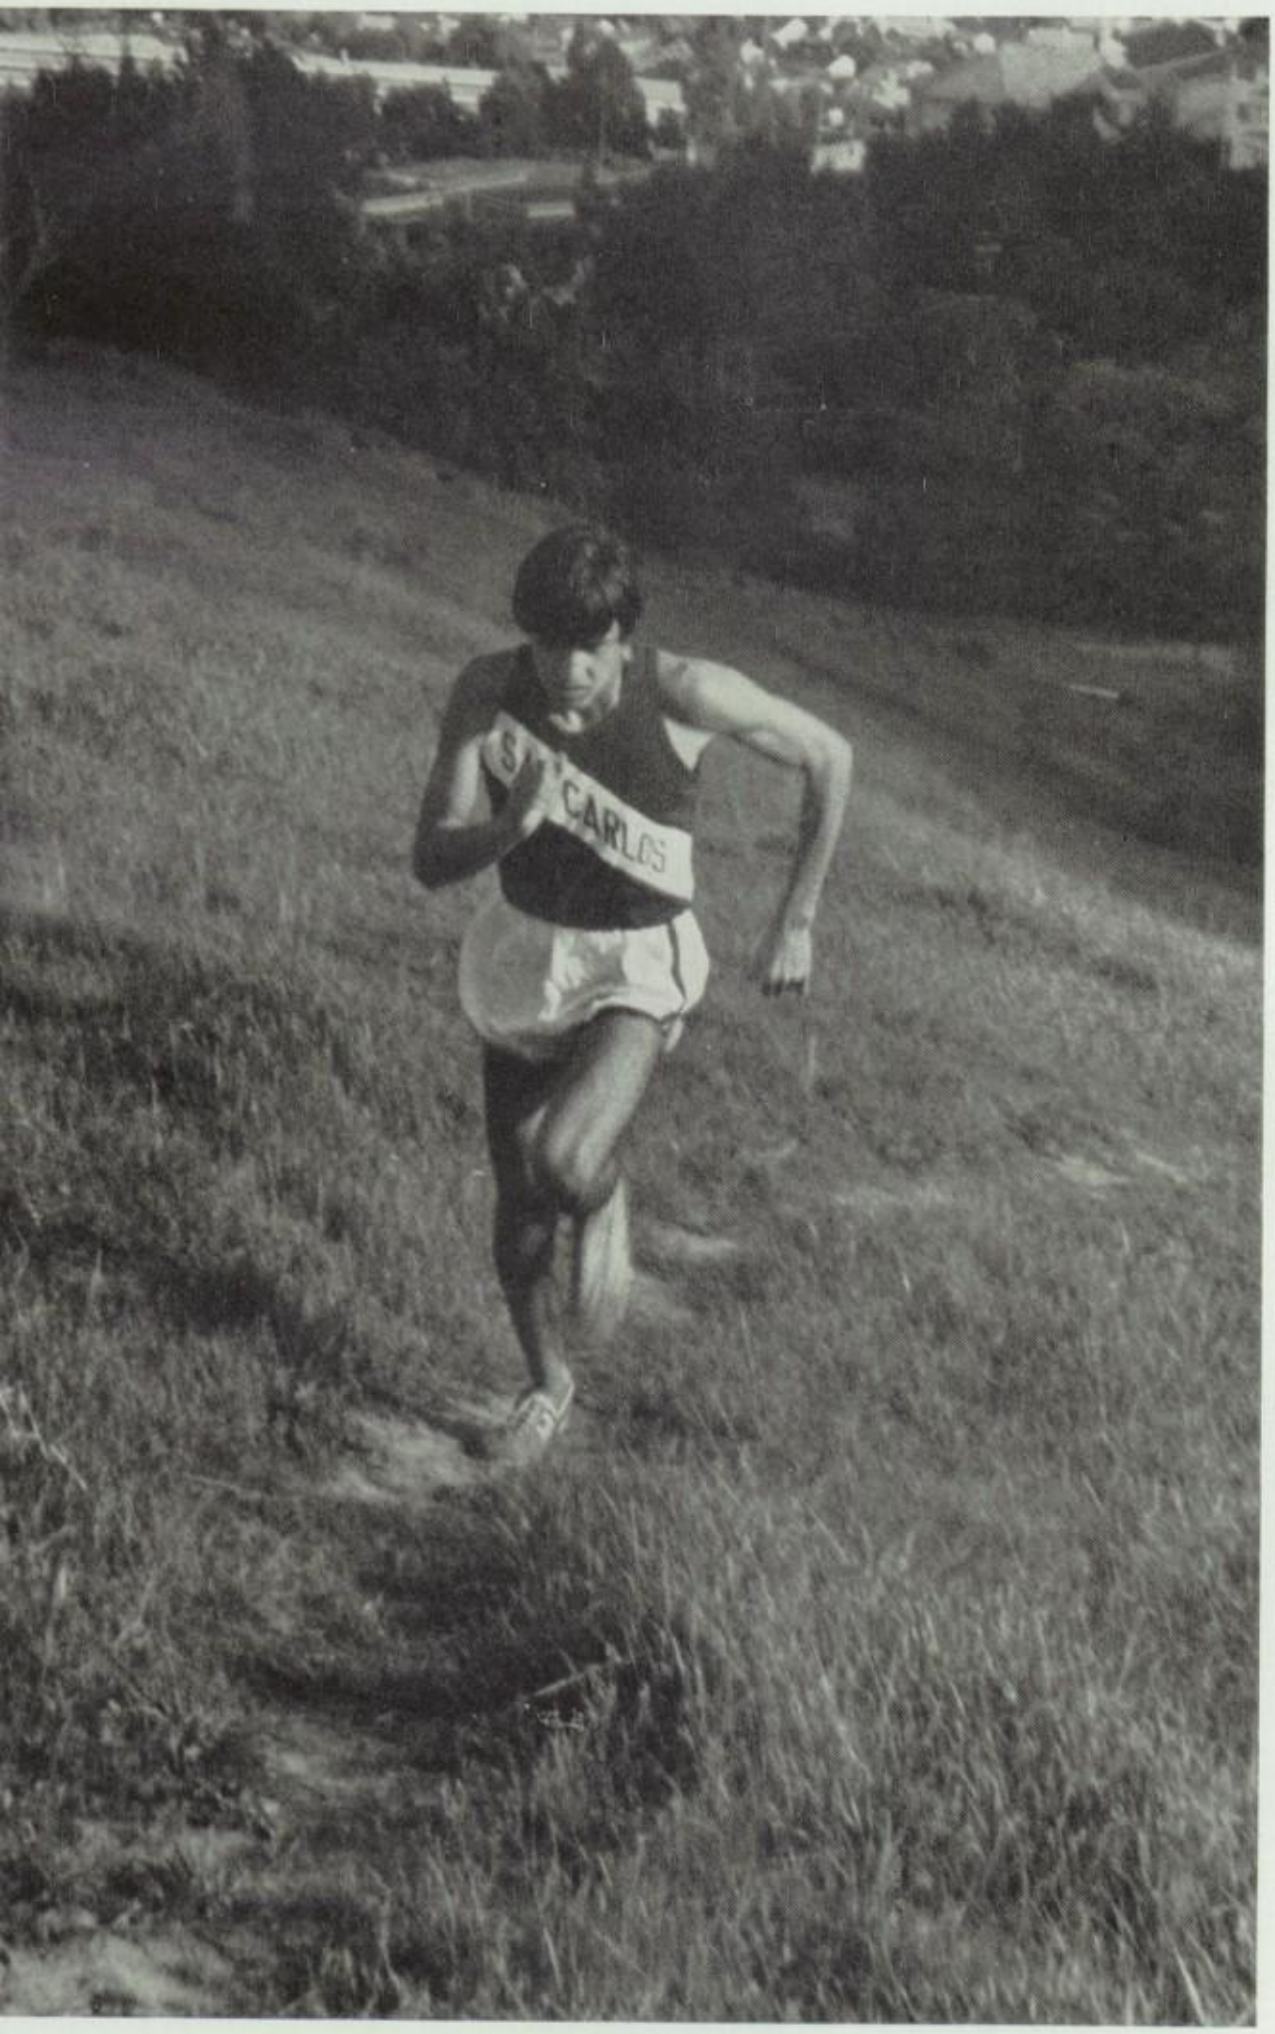
Kingery dominates league, wins C.C.S.



"Mitch Kingery wins again" tells the whole story of the 1973 varsity cross country season for the Dons. The Junior flash captured ten consecutive races before being upended in the anti-climatic three-mile postal by NorCal Runner of the Year, Rich Kimball.

Mitch's titles include SPAL Runner of the Year, Region II and CCS champ, and Most Outstanding Junior in Northern California. He also broke SPAL records for two and three miles, the former a national prep best for this year.

Jim Luttrell's corps didn't fare so well as a team, however, as the Crimson Crusaders fell to rival Carlmont in the league finals, thus diminishing their hopes for a second consecutive SPAL crown. But with a record of 122-20, one can't be too disappointed.

Senior captain Mike Barnett got off to a slow start but came around in time to finish fifth in the league meet, seventh in Region II and 21st in the CCS finals. Mike was an ALL-SPAL pick, and Honorable Mention NorCal.

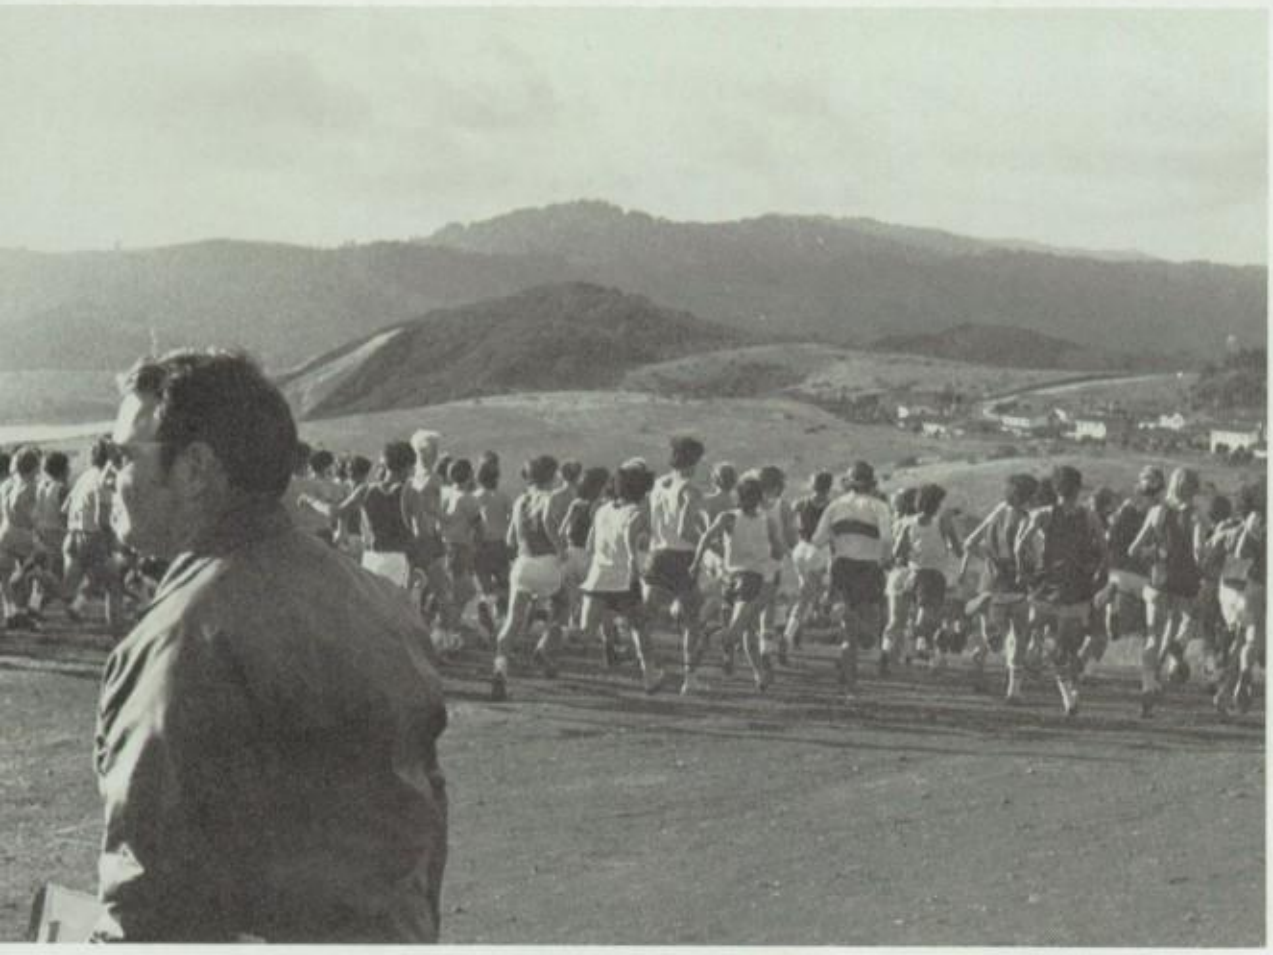
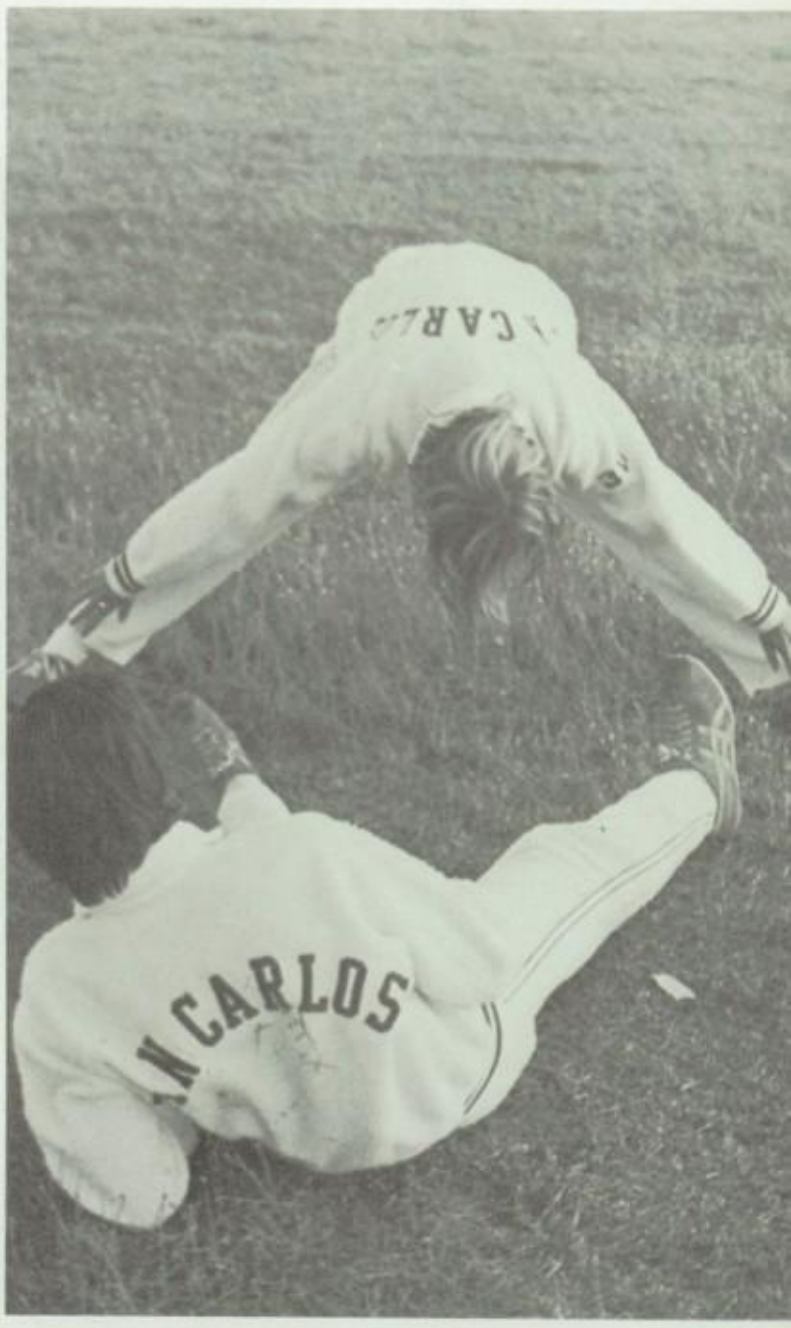
SC harriers second in league



Senior Phil Schaffner ran well all year, but came upon some hard luck at the close of the season. Running exceptionally well in the league finals Phil tripped and fell on the slippery course, thus stripping his chances for an All-league berth. He did, however, receive an Honorable Mention. Phil was later stricken by the flu and was unable to compete in the CCS finals.

Juniors Gary Gissendaner and Jeff Lynn performed admirably as the fourth and fifth men, as their early season inexperience was overcome fully at the close of the campaign. Gary's perseverance earned him Honorable Mention All-League. These two, along with Kingery, should make the Dons contenders once again in 1974.



JV Cross Country team ranks third

The Junior Varsity, Sophomore, and Freshmen Cross Country teams all had one thing in common; lack of depth. In that department which San Carlos had so excelled during the previous year, Coach Jim Luttrell was posed with the problem of having one or two outstanding runners, but not enough consistant harriers to back them up. This is not to say that the "little Dons" had a poor season. All three teams finished in a respectable third place in the SPAL finals, and each team did have their outstanding performers.

The Junior Varsity squad showed marked improvement throughout the season, peaked by the league finals. In that meet Junior Peter Van Alderwerelt finished in an excellent third place, followed by Dave Walsh and Caros Marti who took eighth and fourteenth place respectively.

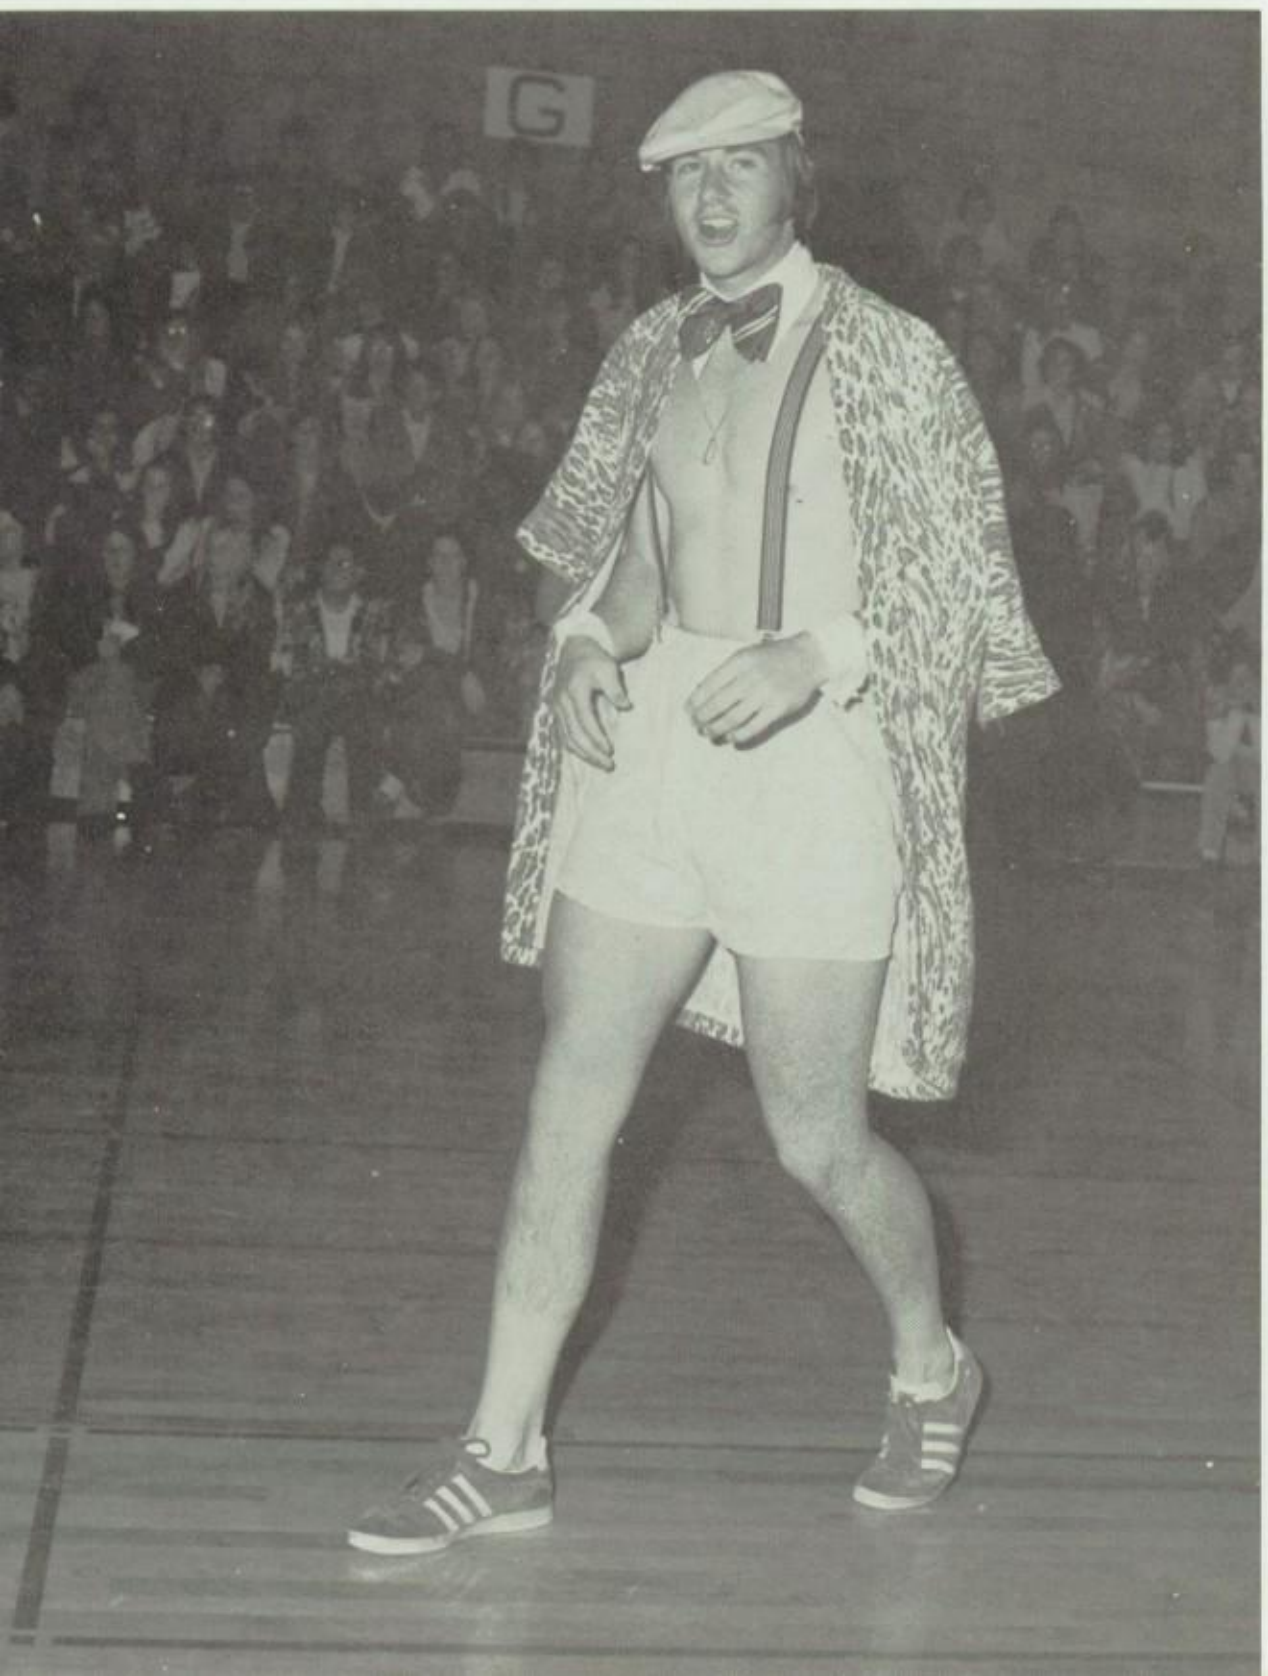
Led by all leaguer Craig Ulrich, the Sophomores found a little more depth than the other Don teams. Mike Hildreath, Steve Shaw, and Marti Crayton all Received All-SPAL Honorable Mention. John Rubens also performed admirably throughout the season.

The Freshmen were led by All-League picks Tom Lucas, and Forrest Brakman, with Honorable Mention going to Mark Ashton.

Students support Senior Class



Dancing peas, pom pon boys, lumberjacks, gangsters, and a walking six-pack entertained a gym packed with Dons at the Senior Auction held Thursday, December 13, during a double lunch period.

Elaborate costumes and creative skits inspired students to bid as high as 30 dollars for groups of seniors who would be theirs to command the next day.

Highlights of the auction included a pom pon routine by Keith Campbell, Keith Comstock, Pat Doan, Larry Garcia, and Jim Serrano. Their hilarious efforts earned 27 dollars.

Peas, Barbara Borelli, Laura Coulthard, Debbie Hardy, and Cheryl Collins, provided the brightest color at the sale. Dressed in tights and shining green bags stuffed with newspaper, they danced to the tune of "Sweat Pea" for a price of 16 dollars.

On Friday the peas pulled seniors, Steve Pace and Wayne Spence, to class on a wagon.

The highest bid of the day was for Debbie Von Hofen and Mary Richmond who skipped across the gym as Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy.

On Friday the pair was seen driving their owners to school and carrying their orders out to hold hands and skip around the library.

"We got the funniest looks from people, but we had a good time," laughed Debbie.

Other groups included six saloon girls called the Strippers, the Beach Party girls, who marched in under a serfboard, six female lumberjacks who cut down a tree on the gym floor, a mob of gangsters, dancing harem girls, and a walking six-pack of beer.

Senior Auction raises controversy

Jungle inhabitants wearing zebra skins were pursued across the gym by an ape-man, and another group included a werewolf which captured a member of the audience.

Girls in football jerseys led the auction off with a few plays, and three girls on roller skates finished it with a routine to "Cabaret."

That is, it was finished until seniors decided to auction off the auctioneer, Frank Rodriguez. Frank was literally pushed into the limelight.

Bidding was low at first, but increased as spirits rose.

The senior class made approximately 200 dollars on the event, which may be the last Senior Auction.

The traditional event suffered a temporary cancellation the day before it was to take place.

About 40 angry students met with the principal to discuss the problem during fourth period. By the end of lunch, the Senior Auction was uncancelled.

"I didn't realize that so many kids supported the auction," admitted, principal, Mr. Mangini.

Dons win Round Robin title 10-0

Coach Dan Silva and his 1973-1974 Varsity basketball team opened their SPAL season without a player over 6'2, taking this into consideration, it seemed almost impossible for the Dons to make the post league play-offs against their much taller SPAL adversaries.

Although they played with this height disadvantage throughout the season, San Carlos not only made the play-offs but achieved a minor miracle when they won the SPAL Round Robin title with an unblemished league record of 10-0 and placed second in SPAL standings. This proved that what the Dons lacked in height, they made up for in an abundance of hustle and aggressiveness.

In the Dons season opener with Palo Alto, the Carlans chalked up their first victory wi a score of 43-38.

In a game that they were expected to wi San Carlos outplayed Gunn and came o the eventual winner 57-46. Two players wh were influencial in the Dons victory we guard Scott Sedlacek and center Jim Mill who was the leading scorer in the conte netting 20 points.

In a game that was to have been a b test for the Dons, SC left little or no dou that they were top contenders in the SPA by defeating Ravenswood 43-41. The Do depended primarily on their hustle an rebound skills. Being the aggressive greed team they were, the Dons turned many ba Trojan passes and turnovers into easy Sa Carlos buckets.

Timely shooting, spirit, back SC

Although the Dons were in first place following three games, they had not yet faced a strong team and the supreme test came when they met Woodside.

Playing before a typically rowdy and standing room only crowd, the Dons maintained first place with a 49-47 triple overtime win over Woodside. Looking back over the Woodside victory, the only way that SC won was by some timely shooting and the overwhelming backing of the SC rooters.

The Hilltoppers remained in first place via a crushing win over Sequoia. Don shooting had never been so hot as they built up leads of 30 points.

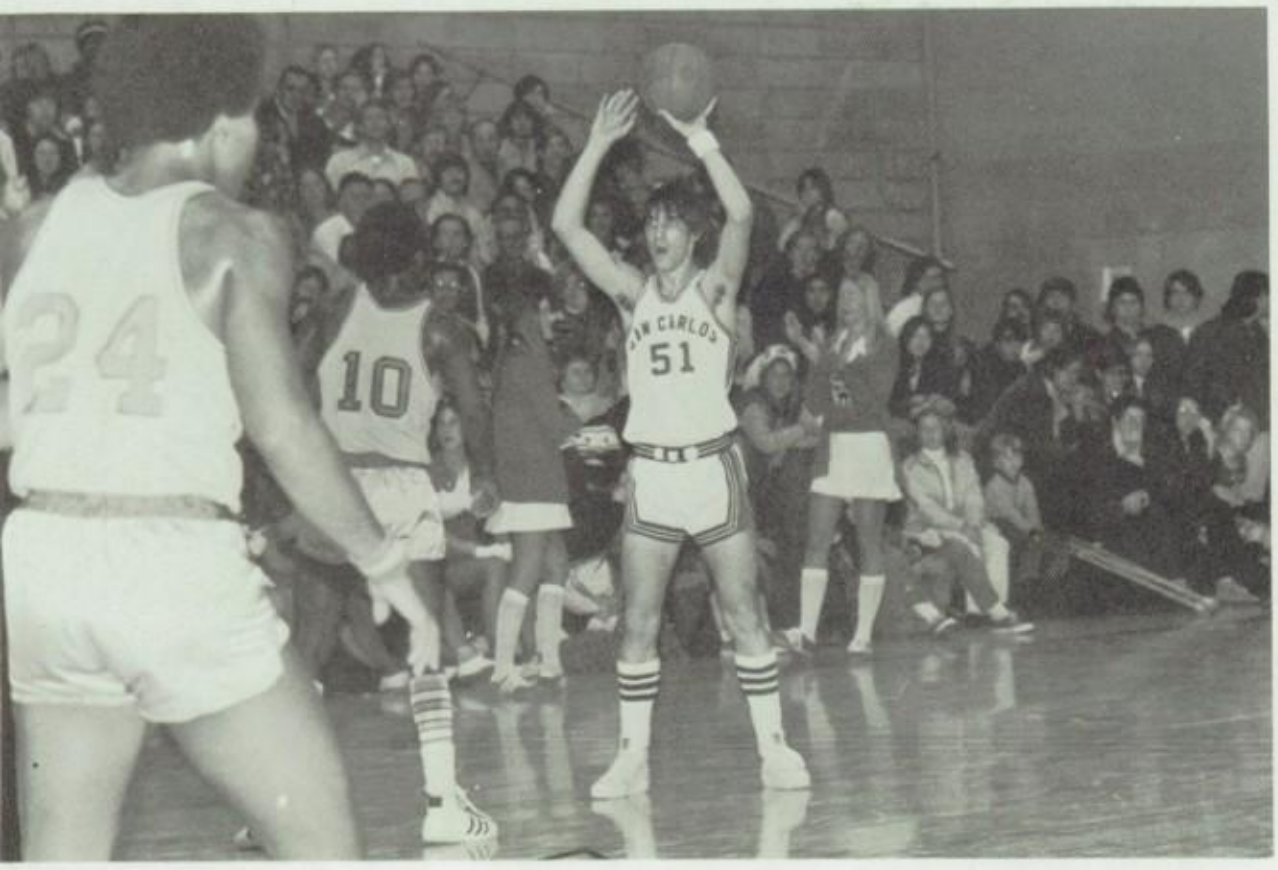
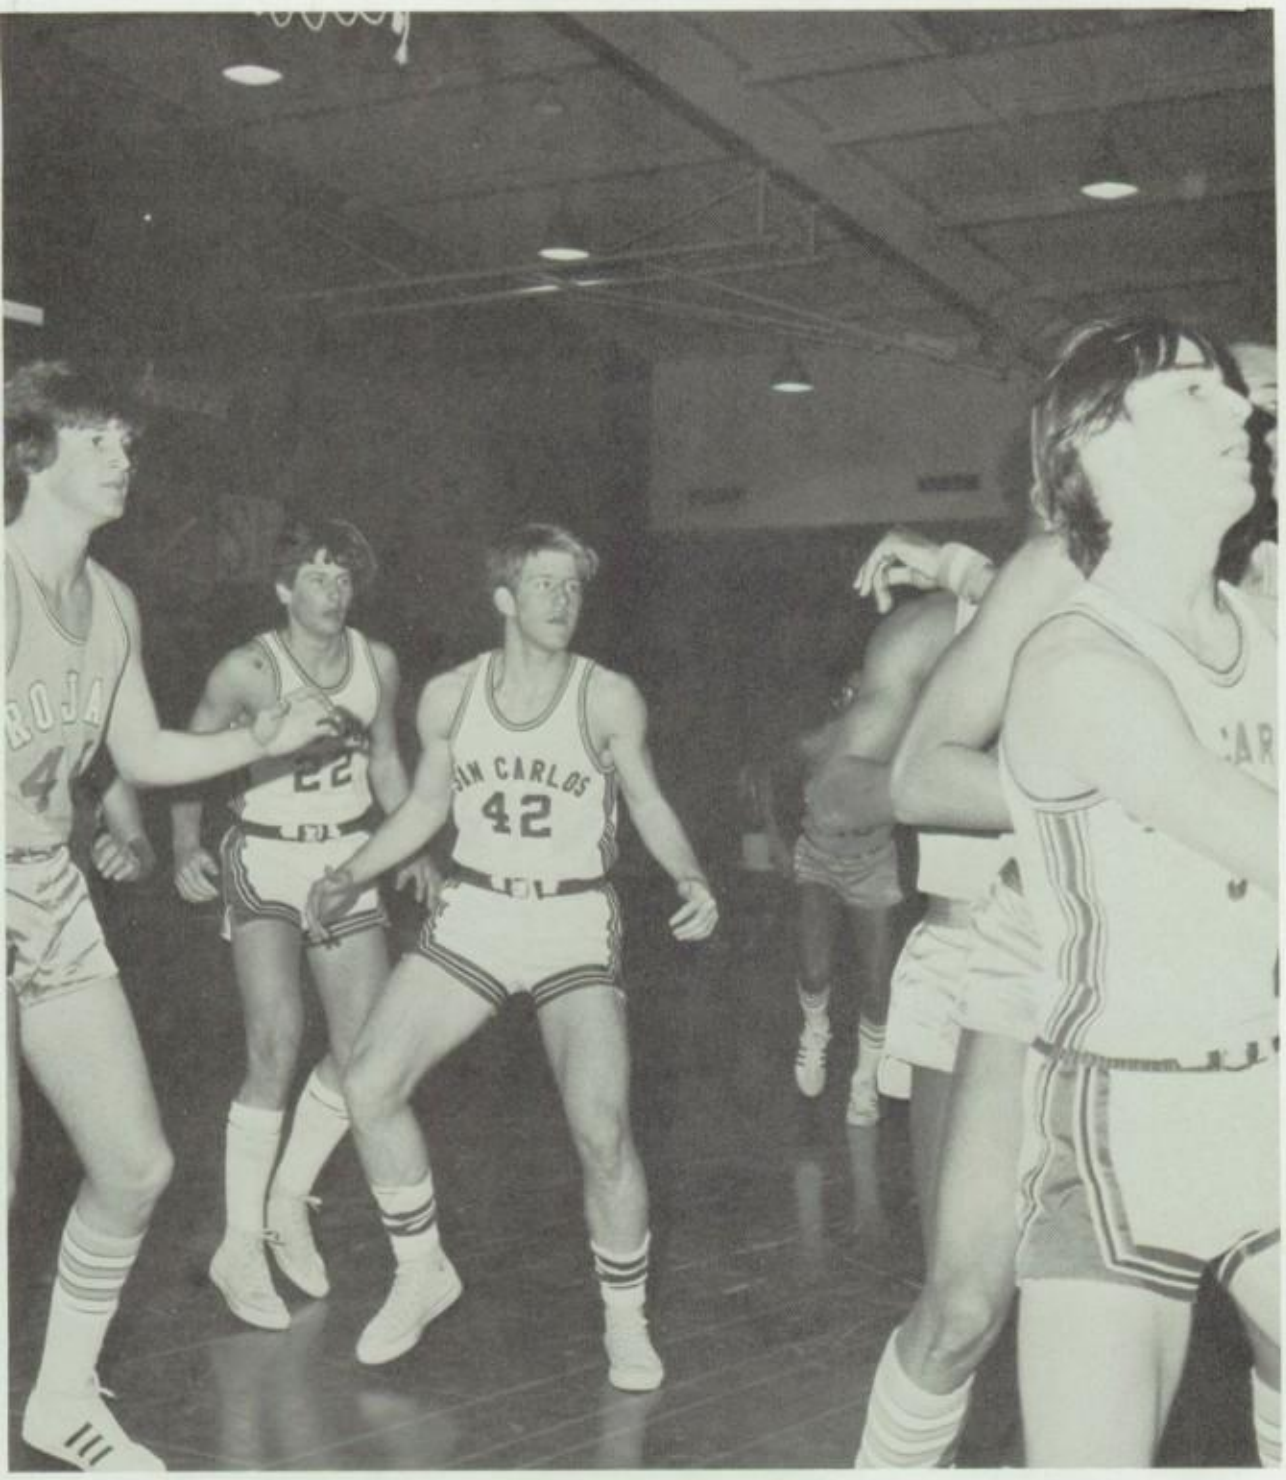
SC contenders for SPAL crown





Traveling to Menlo Atherton for their sixth encounter, the enthusiastic Don fans doubled the turnout of the Menlo Atherton fans. Expecting a game similar to the Sequoia rout, the Dons came from behind for a 58-53 victory. Forward Pete Snyder was the dominant scorer for SC, scoring 12 points.

San Carlos played their second best game of the year by defeating Cubberly 67-65 in a single overtime. Down by eight points, with 2:30 to go in the game, SC started their comeback that ended with a twisting layup by Steve de Figueriedo with :03 left in the overtime.

Led by the devastating duo of Parnes and Miller, SC beat Sequoia a second time 72-62. Parnes and Miller scored 22 and 17 points respectively.

With a record of 8-0, the Dons had remaining games with Carlmont and needed only a split for the Round Robin title.

San Carlos defeated Carlmont both times and became only the second team in SPAL history to go undefeated. In their first game with Carlmont, the Dons blitzed the Scots 57-46 before an overcrowded home gathering. In the second game, the Dons jumped out to an 18 point lead and never looked back as they ran the Scots off the court.

Following league play, the Dons entered the play-offs to be beaten by Carlmont 61-45 and Woodside 54-33.

With a 10-0 record for league play, SC fans saw their team as the best in the league despite an official standing of second place.

One fact uncontested as the best in SPAL, was the spirit that the San Carlos Student Body demonstrated throughout the year. The Don's enthusiasm and excitement left Coach Dan Silva with a commendable quote-"I will never forget the Spirit of '74."

Dons muscle their way to victory

The San Carlos Junior Varsity basketball team concluded their SPAL season with their second straight championship title under their belts.

The Dons accomplished this feat with a Round Robin win-loss mark of 8-2, in play-off action the Dons had a perfect mark of 3-0 including victories over the two teams that defeated them in league play.

The Hilltoppers were the pre-season pick to take the crown, but some mid-season laziness and let-downs made it tough for the Dons as they dropped contests tc Ravenswood, and Round Robin champ Cubberly.

Following the Cubberly game, Coach Jim Giacamazzi voiced his displeasure with the play of the Dons and was determined not to lose another game for the rest of the season or through the play-offs.

Not wanting to further upset their coach, the Dons reeled off four straight victories to close out Round Robin play in second place.

Pat,
We had a lot of fun in Algebra this year calling Connoley a skin-head and calling you a dumb ——. Anyway have a good summer watching the Johnny Carson show and all you're other favorite I promise that I will call you LEARCH next year. See ya later,

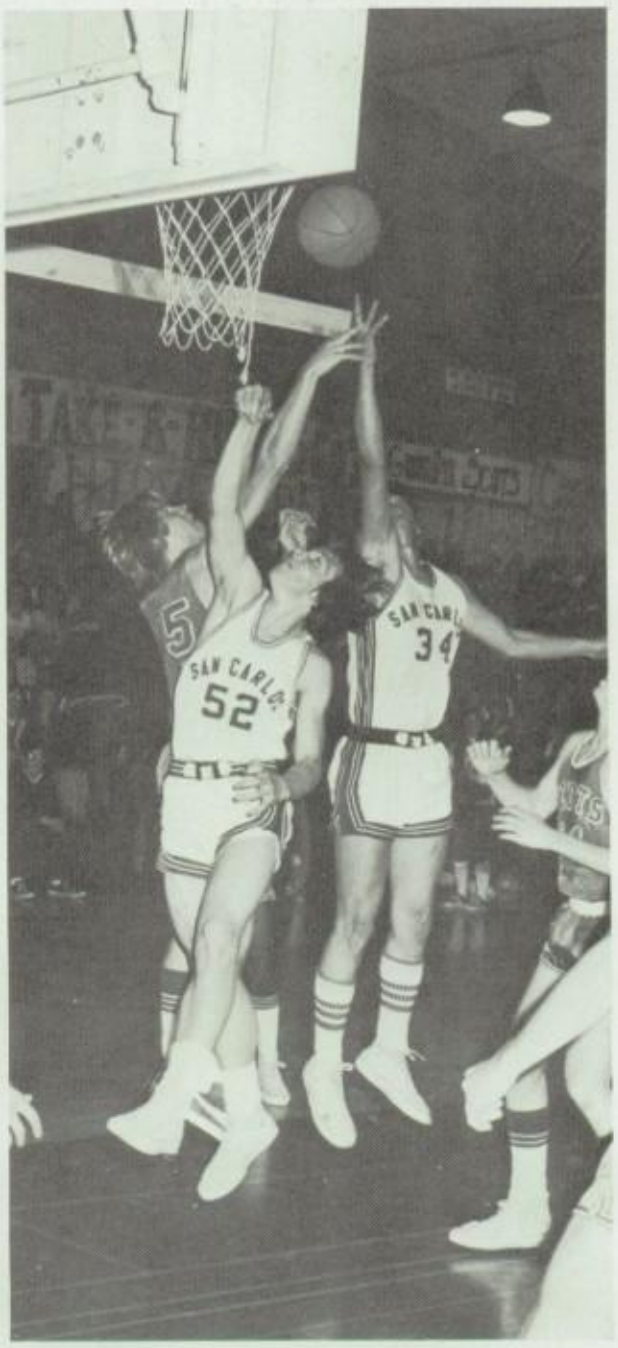
JV's capture another SPAL title



Led by the inspired play of first team all leaguer Lou Rodriguez, the Carlans defeated the Trojans in the play-offs by one point on a play which proves that basketball is indeed a game of action. The Dons were ahead by one point with three seconds left in the contest. Ravenswood had possession of the ball. The Trojans inbounded the ball and their standout Byrone Griffie rose for a jumpshot, time ran out while Griffie was in the air and luckily for the Dons the referee didn't allow the basket that would have guaranteed the Trojans a victory.

Although the Dons got past Ravenswood, the big question was whether or not they could beat Cubberly twice for the title. The question was answered when the Dons knocked off the Cougars for a second time and iced the cake when they carried Coach Giancamazzi who was once dissatisfied with the Dons, off the court.

The Junior Varsity championship brought out a fact that not too many people are aware of, since the Varsity squad won the SPAL title in 1966, at least one San Carlos basketball team has won an SPAL title since that. This fact proves that San Carlos has been a consistent power in the SPAL and not many teams can match this feat.

Basketball team had winless season

If nothing else, the Girls Basketball Team had spirit. Unable to achieve a single win throughout the entire season the girls worked hard practicing diligently with hopes of breaking their winless record.

With assistance from Seniors Craig Sobotka and Bernard Edwars, Coach Margret Heyfron kept the girls feeling optimistic with diligent practice whenever they did not have a league game.

Returning players for the Varsity team were Kim Ashby, Sally Drach, Liz Hunter, Pam Swan and Joan Neth who was out with an injured knee for most of the season.

New players for the Varsity team were Freshmen Linda Defigueiredo, Sharon Durham, Nancy Hunter, Patty Taylor and star player Sonja Spencer.

Sonja is among a group of freshmen that according to Coach Heyfron, "will make a good team for the future."

Black History leads to awareness

According to Director of Student Activities Ken Melton, "Black History Week is a way of bringing all ethnic groups together in a closer tie, making students aware of Black culture and Attitudes."

In an effort to bring about Black awareness, a series of Black History assemblies were planned for San Carlos students during the week of February 11.

During the first assembly students participated in a Kwanza, a festive ceremony which included dancing, special dress, and seven sacred candles. The candles stood for unity, self-determination, collective work and responsibility, co-operative economics, purpose, creativity, and faith. The guest speaker was Mr. Frank Satterwhite, assistant superintendent of the Ravenswood Elementary School District.

On the third day was planned a Civil Rights Program. Dr. Michael Lange, Educational Consultant of Oakland, and San Carlos students spoke about famous Black Americans who had dedicated their lives to fighting for equality and justice.

Doom spelled for SC play-off hopes

Some may look back at SC'S 1-3-4 Varsity Soccer record and feel that the team slacked off from a strong second place finish of the previous year.

But the heavy losses of graduation and injuries were the real culprits as they took their toll on an inspired team. According to Coach Lorenat the team actually "played over their heads". In fact, with a few more goals in critical spots, the Dons could have found themselves in the play-offs.

However, a weak defense allowed precious goals to pass by the Don goalies, and spell doom for SC's play-off hopes.

Members of the Don defensive corps should however, be commended for their revived vigor towards the end of the season. Those singled out by Lorenat were Stan Johnson, Cliff Williams, and Mark Galatolo.

Nolan out goals SC booters

Finishing an illustrious career at SC, Senior Ray Nolan came through with a team high 16 goals, nine less than his record shattering 25 of the year before.

Coach Lorenat faulted the inability of the rest of the team to give Nolan the ball and the frequent double and triple teaming as reasons for Nolan's declined output.

But the relentless Nolan was not held down all season and was able to shake loose enough times against Mills High to unleash a five goal scoring barrage against the hapless visitors.

Looking back, Nolan, his teammates, and Coach Lorenat, will have the satisfaction of knowing that it was not a lack of will and inspiration that kept them from the championship.

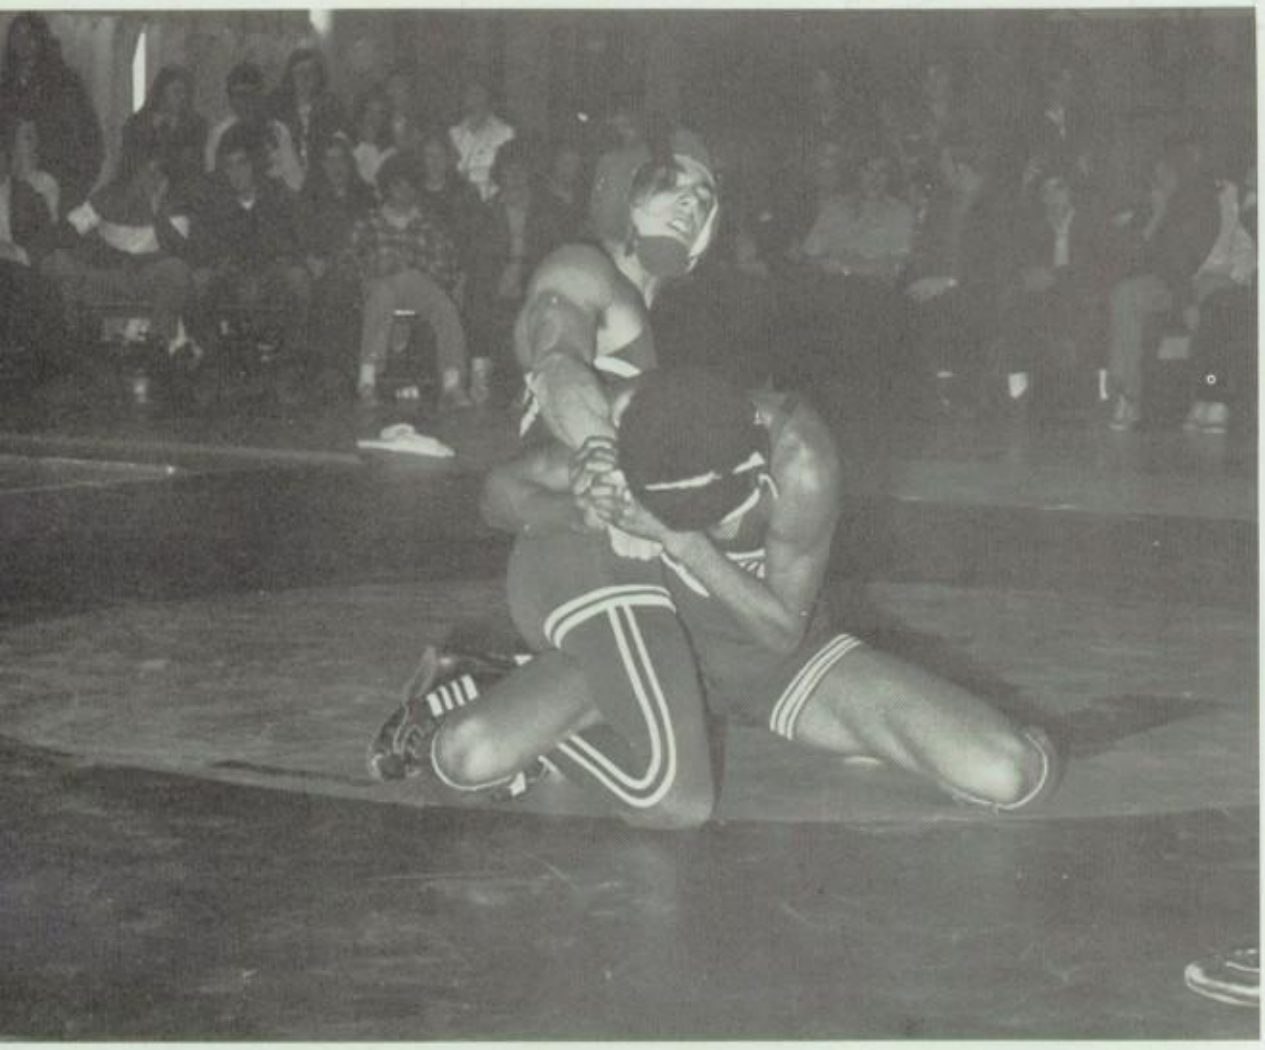
SC grapplers rank third in SPAL

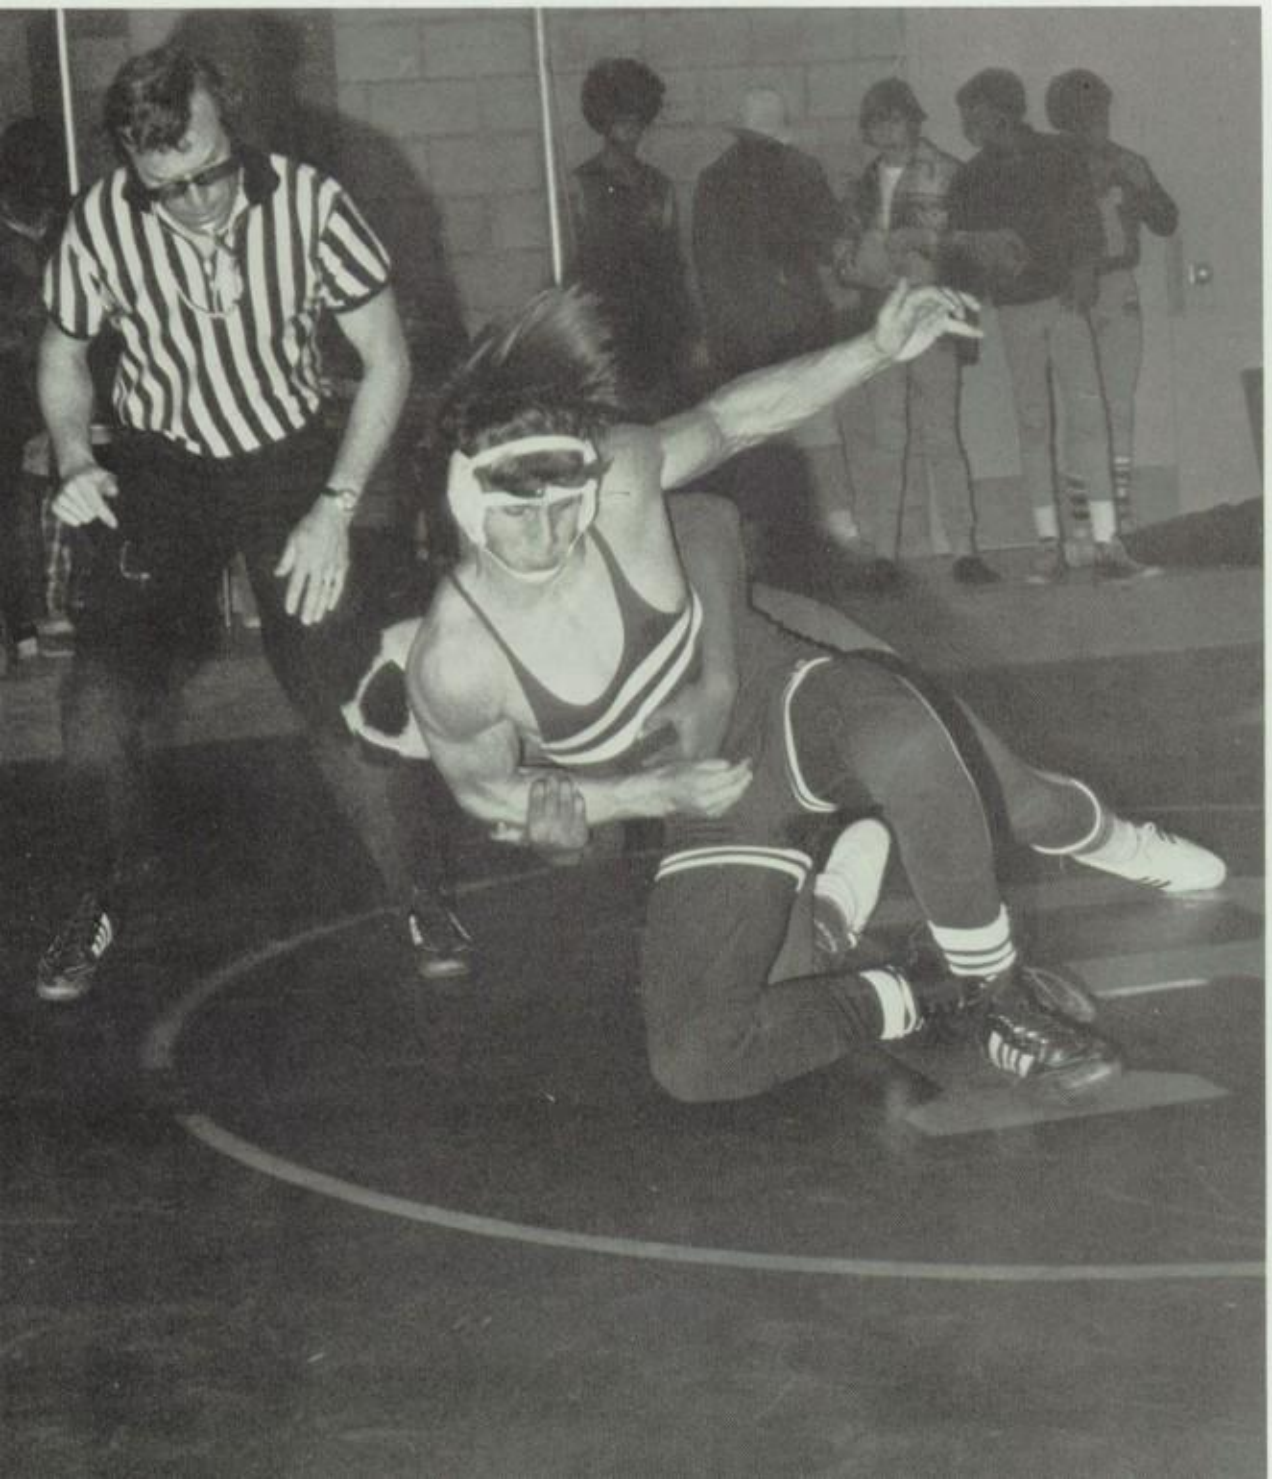


Bouncing back from last years season disappointment, the San Carlos wrestlers attained a secure third in SPAL standings stopping all but two powerful teams.

The very tight season found San Carlos in second place until their meet with undefeated Gunn. Outmatched by the experienced Gunn team, San Carlos was crunched 39-16.

One of the highlights of the season came when SC met Carlmont. The Dons were trailing 21-33, and needed two pins to tie the score. Mark Rockwood came through and pinned his opponent in the third phase with less than one minute left in the match, and reliable Henry Elhers pinned his man in the first phase.

The entire SPAL was shocked when San Carlos decimated MA powerful MA by a score of 34-18. Surprise came from Sophomore Mark Davis, Kelly Lawson and Roger Mead.



Ehlers takes third SPAL crown

The 1973-1974 San Carlos wrestlers put together a well balanced team with surprising potential. Placing 4 men in the finals and 3 in the consolation finals, the Dons ranked third in the league.

San Carlos wrestling ace Ken Atelian suffered his first SPAL championship defeat against Dwight Miller, as he placed second in his division.

Sophomore Mark Davis made unbelievable improvements this year as he placed second in his division, and succumbed to only one loss in league matches. Great prospects are expected from this young and talented wrestler.

In only his second year on the team, Senior Mark Rockwood wrestled far beyond expected to receive a second place in his division.

Undefeated in league matches for two years, Henry Elhers received his third SPAL crown in three years. As anchor man for the SC team, Elhers pulled the team out of defeat many times.

Sophomores Roger Mead and Don Davenport each received fourth place and a promise of success in the future.

Chuck Whipple also received a fourth place in his division to finish his wrestling career at San Carlos.

The future of the San Carlos wrestling team lies almost entirely in the hands of this years JV and Frosh teams.

With an enormous turnout of Freshmen in the 1973-1974 season, the SC wrestling teams to come will be sure to be filled with experienced wrestlers.

Already earning a name for themselves, the JV and Frosh teams each had a 6-2 league record which ranked each of them in a respectable third place.

With an abundance of skilled wrestlers, next years veterans, along with newcomers will uphold the SC wrestling tradition high among the top teams in the league with their talents and experience.

Reporters bring awards to SC

Unable to provoke students to respond with letters, Don Carlos staffers used their editorial page to offer criticism and praise of a wide range of subjects. They took upon their own shoulders the mantle of school leadership.

But few students followed. Most were soaking in the brotherhood of indifference.

Editor Lynette Antonov and the staff praised the efforts of individuals like campus aide Audrey Rushing. They spoke up strongly for continuation of the now moribund Senior Auction, and for a Board policy allowing extremely active students to bypass PE classes.

Editors answered an administrator's charges that SCHS denies black students opportunity to participate in school activities, and they criticized the faculty for sabotaging each other's field trips.

They also questioned the quality of a questionnaire being used to evaluate teachers, and they called attention to inconsistencies in grading.

Feature reporters dominated the pages though. They examined the personalities and achievements of students and staff. Feature Editor Howard Edelstein took a first place award among Bay Area schools for his story on Matt Triano.

The paper kept a series called "San Carlos Landmarks" going throughout the year. It offered excellent writing by reporters Marilyn Hopp, Dan Chase, Christie Yeo, Donna Wrigley, Dana Marsh, Gary Katz, Elizabeth Harte, and Chris Lee.

Sports Editor Stan Murphy carried the load of responsiblity both semesters and called upon Davy Norris, Chuck Whipple, Mike Barnett and Mark Ulriksen for sports coverage.

Lynette Antonov was named Staffer of The Year in the "San Mateo Times." She found herself handling the major news stories and reviews. She looked for help from Howard Edelstein, Debbie Walsh, Connie Johnson, Liz Hunter, David Hurley, and David Briggs.

Advertising Manager John Perdido raised nearly $1000 to keep the paper in the black. He found assistance from Jan Dalton and Linda Sana. Jeff Purcell and Chris Lee kept distribution and exchange humming.

Mark Ulriksen this better be your yearbook. A "B"!

Other District and Bay Area high schools with similarly capable students published newspapers, but none matched the Don Carlos.

Like five newspaper staffs before them, Don Carlos reporters seemed certain to earn the "All American" award from the National Scholastic Press Association. San Carlos newspapers have had one thing in common: trained and dedicated journalists.

DEFINITION

DON CARLOS: "Something. Something to do with students, a newspaper, and San Carlos High School. I know that "Don Carlos" is not a category. It is not a thing — a noun. It seems to be a verb — something changing, growing, becoming. Yes, "Don Carlos" is a verb, a process, an integral function of San Carlos High School. It is a group of young people to whom things made matter less than making things. Their vocation: continuous observation.

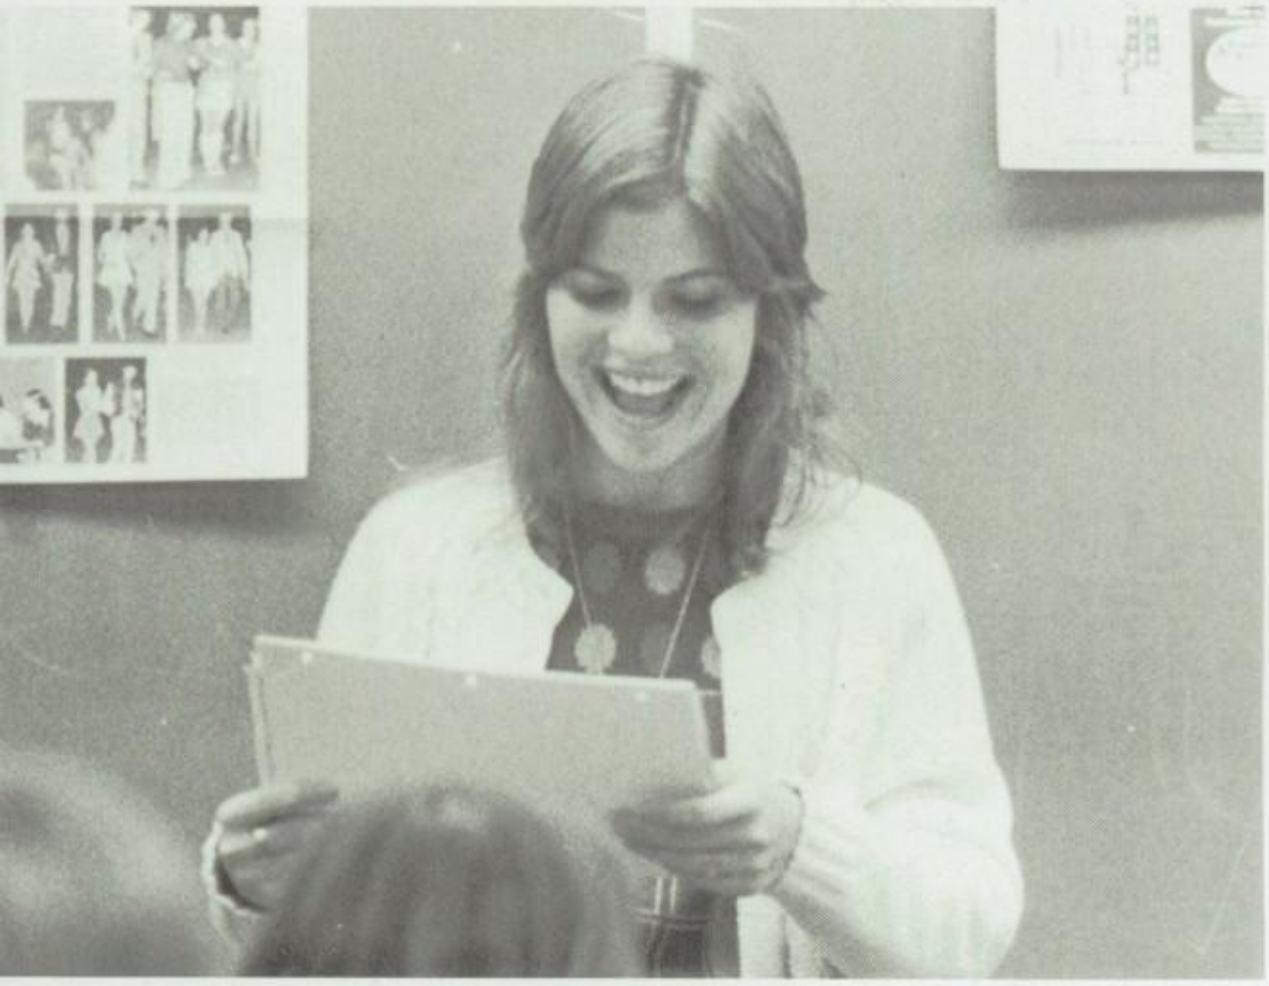
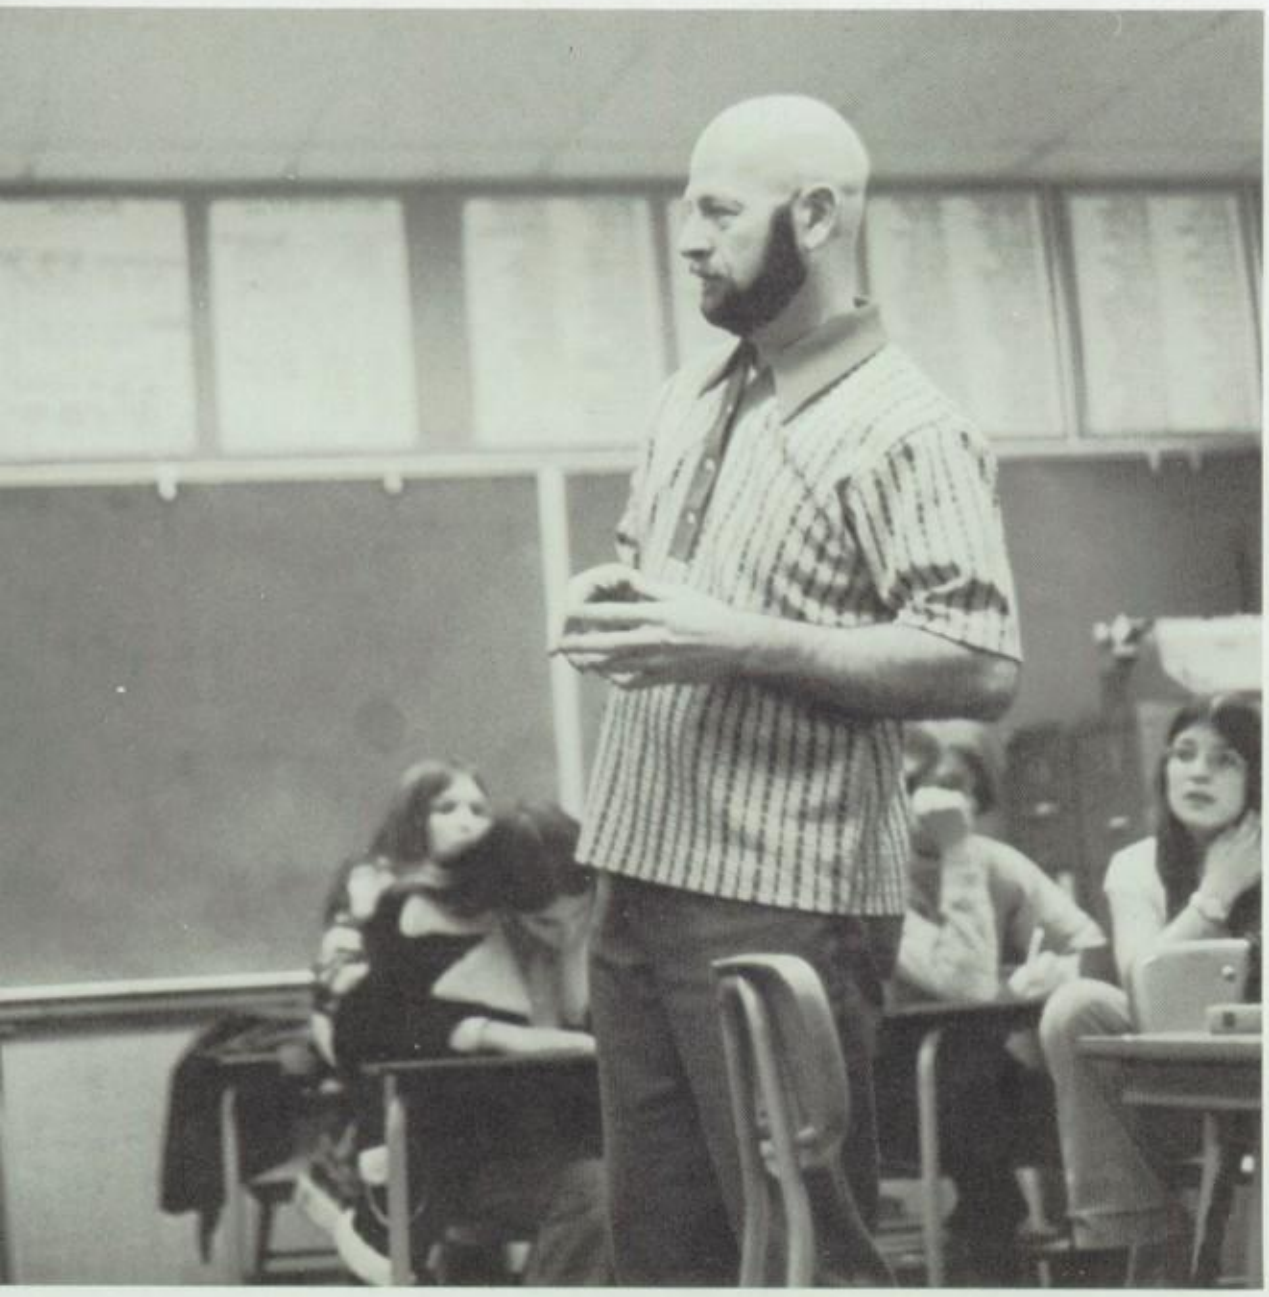
Young staff to lead '75 Don Carlos





Readers can detect changes in the Don Carlos from year to year. This year's staff gave space to strong feature reporting, crowding even the news page. Last year's staff gave heavier coverage to news, district wide concerns like voluntary transfer and the budget. They were more concerned with state and national politics as they affected SCHS than was this year's staff.

Next year's staff will doubtless put their own stamp upon the paper, but it will undoubtedly be the mark of an extremely young group of reporters and editors.

The yearly "cub issue," written and edited by first year students, named freshmen Christie Yeo, Dana Marsh, and Marilyn Hopp as page editors. Juniors Dan Chase and Mark Ulriksen served as chief editor and sports editor.

Other freshmen will help to make up the backbone of the reporting staff if they are not named as editors. They are Chris Lee, Debbie Walsh, Gary Katz, and David Hurley. Sophomores David Briggs and Elizabeth Harte will be a part of the team, as will juniors Jan Dalton, Liz Hunter, Lori Arelliano, and Don Swanson.

Advisor O.C. Guinn said that he was looking forward to what this young group of reporters could do with their power and responsiblity as never before.

He said he hoped next year's staff "will help to shape the standards of our student body rather than to accept them. I hope reporters can put more effort into reporting and commenting on what SCHS is doing, and less on what its leaders and authorities are saying."

SC contenders in three team league

After saving the gymnastics program from being dropped by the school for this season, Coach Marc Held was faced with the dilemma of having two of the team's eight gymnasts being delegated to non-scoring competing roles.

The two gymnasts, students from Carlmont who traveled to SC for practice, tried to compete under a recent ruling which allowed students from one school to compete for another school as long as their is no similar sports team at their original school.

Redtape barred the way of the Carlmont gymnasts and because of administration and District hassels, the future of the SC gymnastics team as contenders in a three team league was cloudy.

Coupled with the problems of reviving the team for league play, and the many long hours he put into helping SC gymnasts get in shape for competition, one may wonder why Held, a Chico State graduate, even wanted the volunteer coaching position.

But Held explained that "In high school, most of the emphasis is put on the three big sports - baseball, basketball, and football. But not everyone can or wants to play those sports."

"Instead of spending most of their money on onlt a few sports, the administration should allow the average kid to be able to go out for some other sports."

In regard to the gymnastics squad itself, Held and former SC gymnastics coach Tom Lorenat saw Senior Todd Hutcheon as the Don's really big hope for competition in his specialty, vaulting.

Other than Todd, though, the team was a bit weaker than last year and will probabty be satisfied with a second place if the Carlmont tumblers are allowed to compete for SC.

1974 yearbook staff in review

To produce a yearbook is an incredible, almost awesome task; at times you feel it may consume you. But then comes that overwhelming feeling of satisfaction and accomplishment and you realize that all your work has had value.

Nobody can imagine the amount of energy and the hours of work that go into creating a yearbook. There are many people to be thanked.

Mr. Safsten, at the beginning of the year you didn't know a thing about being a yearbook advisor, but you do now don't you? You never let the fact that this was your first year as advisor stop you. Your conscientious handling of the photographic department was greatly appreciated and you were always good for a caption or two.

Mr. Clarke, thank you for your help in the business aspects of the yearbook. I know that you and Susan Garnsey worked hard to keep all financial records accurate during the yearbook and ad sales.

As the yearbook photographers well know, it is impossible to have a yearbook without pictures. Thank you Shane Feusier, Brian Geller and Richard King. I knew that if I told you there was a girls' tennis match in fifteen minutes or if it was Friday and I needed four rolls of candids by Monday you would come through.

Marilyn Aiello and Sue Steelman, thank you for being my right hand-men. Your assistance was invaluable. Marilyn thank you for struggling with the class pictures and the Senior portraits. Sue, I hope that you took notes this year because, believe me, you'll need them next year.

Staff Publishes A Winner

Sue Garnsey, Sue Ashcraft, Joan Thomas, and Jim Fitzgerald, thank you. I hope that you learned something about how a yearbook is produced this year. I appreciate the time that you put into the book, you are all important to the future of the yearbook staff. me again.

Genell and Elaine, every layout that you copied and every page that you typed was one that I didn't have to worry about.

Mr. Guinn, thank you for advice, consultations, and patience. You saved the day many times with your words of encouragement and your photographic ability.

A special thanks goes to Howard Edelstein, Stan Murphy, Dave Norris, Chuck Whipple, Mike Barnett, and other members of the Don Carlos staff who went out of their way to write articles for the yearbook. I cannot thank you enough.

But most of all, thank you San Carlos High for being what you are, you are what the students here make you, and without them there would be no need for a yearbook.

In your hands you hold a space in time, a year chock-full of beautiful memories and remarkable people.

Mermen stroke for wins

With fair hopes for Varsity and unsure hopes for the JV squad, Coach Jim MacKenzie entered the 1974 swim season with mixed feelings.

Fortunately, the Varsity squad had not suffered at the hands of graduation as other sports had. Senior Rick Helvey and Junior Jim Dupree swam freestyle, with Junior Ken Tiedemann and his brother, John, a Freshman, were the team's main contingent of backstrokers.

Expected to be strong were past heroes of the SPAL finals, Juniors Mike Fennelly at breaststroke, and Mark Magulac at backstroke. Both won two events in last years finals.

The diving competition was broadened a bit with Sophomores Linda Lafaurie on Varsity, and Lauren Heard on JV. Other divers included Archie Chaplin on Varsity, Pete Hale, and Neil Beaver on JV.

Tom Sawyer plays hooky at SC

The Children's Theater Company presented the classic adventure story "Tom Sawyer" to Hilltop audiences as the annual winter play.

Cast in the lead roles were Freshmen Jay Noceto as the immortal Tom Sawyer, Susan Kaplan as Tom's first love Becky Thatcher, and Tom Motroni as the adventurous Huckleberry Finn.

Also featured in the production were Sophomore Deborah Claret as Aunt Polly, Junior Brian Storey as Muff Potter, and Senior Julian Moore as Injun Joe. Other members of the cast included Freshmen Linda Bangert, Greg Proops, and Mike Dow.

Written by the renowned American novelist Mark Twain, the story revolved around the adventures of a young Missouri schoolboy who hates school and decides to run away.

Directed by Sophomore Denise Pozzo, the play was produced entirely by the San Carlos drama students.

Boasting the SPAL's finest pitching staff, the Don Varsity "9" were chosen the team to beat in SPAL action.

Led by a strong staff of hurlers including seniors Keith Comstock, Shane Feusier, and Jim Serrano, plus juniors Mark Brown and Mike Wilgus, the Hilltoppers assumed the role as the league's "king pin."

A contending team must also be accompanied by an explosive offense, as displayed by SC. Senior shortstop Scot Sedlacek is the Dons' leading hitter and a probable pick for all-league. Pete Snyder, also a senior, has provided a consistent hitting attack to go along with his fine defensive play at first base.

Don coach Pete Coconni also had another advantage on his side; whenever needed, he can go to his talented bench and insert anyone of the reserves into the game. The Dons' bench includes seniors Frank Rodriguez, Ray Phelan, Mark Galatolo, and Pat Doan, juniors Mike Doan, Lou Rodriguez, and sophomores Mike Reader and Tom Conforti.

San Carlos can look at their defense as one of the top of the league. The fielding stars are infielders Ray Gildea, Scot Sedlacek, Pat Doan, outfielders Steve deFigueriedo, Doug Emery, and Mike Wilgus. The defense held together by catcher Jeff Hansen who handles the team's talented pitchers.

Posing the necessities vital to a winning team, the Dons should fare well in the SPAL.

JV 9 face tough league

Under the direction of new coach Sanford "Van" Morris, the Don Junior Varsity Baseball team had a tough act to follow. Last year's squad tied for the league championship with Woodside.

"With our good hitting team and good defense we were contenders for the title". stated Coach Morris.

A four man pitching rotation was used. Mark Ulriksen, Tom Cavanaugh, Rick Mazzoni and Jim Luttrell had starting assignments. Relief pitchers included Dave Comstock, John Peterson, and Ron Campbell.

An abundance of infielders were available for duty. Alternating starters included Gary Babwin, Al Flagg, Jim Shinnick, Rick Sample, Bob Johnson, Mike Madelen, Tom Cavanaugh, Jim Luttrell, Brad Williams and Rex Van Rexall.

Morris looked to Lorne Atwood, Donny Davenport, Dave Comstock, Jim Nicholes and Tom Delchiaro to stabalize the outfield.

Frosh gain experience in league play

Frosh baseballers at SC opened up the season with a discouraging loss to Wilbur by a score of 2 to 1.

"I've never seen a team play so well and still lose," remarked rookie Coach Jim Junge.

A particularly strong Don defense was led by Bob Kilburg at third base, Gary Davenport at short stop, and Jeff Miller catching.

"With the good attitude the team had and the fine ability they showed I think we can say we really tried to win the pennant," exclaimed the positive-minded coach.

The only serious problem faced by the Dons was a lack of pitching depth. Ken Johnson and Joe Peterson held the starting positions and showed excellent form. However, the relief pitching position was left wide open.

"We had no strong third pitcher," comments Coach Junge," but what out pitching couldn't stop, our defense did."

MGM'ers challenge the wilderness

Twenty-eight students spun wool, made natural dyes out of rotten acorns, lichen and mistletoe and closed their eyes for a trustwalk through the woods on the MGM Yosemite field trip during the week of October 28th through November 3rd.

Their week long adventure was conducted at 6,200 feet above sea level by the Yosemite Institute in Yosemite National Park. They learned by experience rather than by sitting behind a desk.

"It's a great way to learn because you're right there," explains MGM coordinator, Larry Kocher.

Experiencing by day was only part of what the MGM'ers did. At night there were talks and films on birds and Indians. Some MGM'ers spent the night on top of a 7,000 foot fire lookout to watch the sun rise over the Sierra's. Mr. Kocher and others recall that they danced whirling Israeli dances to keep warm while waiting for the sun warm them.

MGM is not the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer roaring lion that is seen on television, records or movies. Instead, these letters stand for Mentally Gifted Minor, a program that is funded by the State of California and offered here at San Carlos. 90% of the members of MGM are there because of high test scores, the rest are in the program on teacher and counselor recommendations. Here at San Carlos there are 204 MGM'ers. Mr. Kocher estimates that one-half of these also took part in the program last year.

If you ask any of the MGM'ers who went to Yosemite how they enjoyed the trip, they will pause, deep in thought, smile and say they loved every second of it.

ABOVE: Although the trip to Yosemite was enjoyable, it was not just play. LEFT: The MGM'ers slept in warm cabins, it was not the Hilton, but they loved it.

A very rare opportunity

It is not every day that one has the opportunity to perfect Chinese menu reading or proper chopstick technique in a high school classroom. However, students at San Carlos High School were given this opportunity and found themselves enlightened by the ancient Chinese language and culture.

Taught by Mr. Richard Clarke, the Chinese language classes offered opportunities for unusual learning activities. For example, students practiced calligraphy, the art of oriental writing with brush and ink. Amazingly enough, Chinese writing is fun and not much more difficult thatn English spelling.

Another special activity for the oriental art lovers was a trip to Golden Gate Park for a tour of the Brundage Collection.

The interestingly different Chinese classes gave students an unusual change of pace and introduced them to an extremely worthwhile subject.

V track season four way race

As was evident last year the 1974 Varsity Track season was a four team race. San Carlos, Woodside, Carlmont, and Gunn all made a run for the title, with the survivor being the victor. "If everything works out, SC could end up the champions," stated Coach Jim Luttrell.

San Carlos had what Coach Luttrell called "our best sprint group ever", led by speedy Senior Pete Butler. Backing him up were Seniors Bernard Edwards, John Conforti, Chris Coleman, and Junior Bob Heartherington. Luttrell felt all four had ability to run a very good time of 10.2 or better.

In the distance corps, Coach Luttrell had what he considered "one of the best groups on the league." Mitch Kingery alone is more than most teams had, having the league record in the two mile of 9.00.3. In the 880 the Hilltoppers were in good shape with Senior Mike Barnett and Juniors Gary Gissendaner, and Jeff Lynn.

The high hurdles crew was led by Senior Brad Humfeld, Junior Keith Caruso, and Sophomore Paul Buckley. Manning the lows were Seniors Ray Nolan, Alvin Spencer, and Brad Humfeld. According to coach Luttrell, Spencer has the ability to be tops in the league in the low hurdles.

Rounding out the running events, the 440 was solid with John Conforti, Sophomore Mark Perry, Gary Gissendaner and Mike Barnett.

Dons posses depth and balance

In the field events consistant point getters were Seniors Mark Rockwood and Chris Anderson in the shot put and the discus; school record breaker Ray Nolan and Craig Sobotka in the pole vault; and Sophomore Greg Malveaux and Junior Todd Braithwaite in the high jump.

Completing the squad were Seniors John Perdido, Opie Parnes, and Sophomore Paul Buckley. Coach Luttrell pointed out, "The jumps were quite strong for us. Malveaux and Braithwaite set school records in the long and triple jumps."

In short, SPAL track coaches had to be a little worried about San Carlos Dons. According to Coach Luttrell, "San Carlos was not as deep in the distance as we were in the past, but we had good depth and balance and that really helped."

JV tracksters devastate opponents

Winning two of their first three meets, the San Carlos Junior Varsity track team looked like another vintage Jim Luttrell crop.

Early season times were very promising. Running in the image of the coach himself, Junior Keith Anderson blazed to victory after victory in the hurdles. Posting a league best 16.4 in the highs, and an excellent 22.7 in the lows, Keith looked like a shoo-in for District champ.

The middle distances seemed the Don's strong events. In the 440, Co-captain Tom Nelson led a group of trotters all under 57.9

The 880 seemed just as devastating to opponents. Co-captain Pete Van Alderwerelt started the season well with a time of 2:11.2, hotly contested by Junior Steve Shaw and Sophomore Dave Papazian with marks of 2:13.8 and 2:15.7, respectively. Throw in Juniors George Erickson and Duncan Wallace, and you've made it almost impossible for opposing teams to place.

In the distance events, junior Dave Walsh posted a lifetime best 4:57.5 in the mile, while the two mile was well-manned with Junior Carlos Marti and sophomore Randy Disney.

Savann Thompson shined in the sprints with a time of 10.9 in the 100, while Junior Bob Heatherington got off to a slow start but was expected to regain his 10.2 form of last year by season's end.

In the field, the Dons had some standouts also. Juniors John McManus and Mark Fussy put the shot 44'8" and 44'6", respectively, while Junior Dennis Montellato heaved the discus 129'6".

Other standout performances included Sophomore Craig Uhrich's league best 18'9½" in the long jump, and junior Mel Parris' 10'6" pole vault.

With the material the junior varsity had this year, they will join the underclassmen on the varsity to comprise next year's squad. With the fine attitudes and talent they have, coach Luttrell is sure he'll have another contender next season.

Ilios: a different path to learning

To San Carlos students, Ilios means a once controversial, alternative education program that allows students to pursue their own personal and educational interests, free from traditional regimentation.

The aspects of Ilios that set it apart from the "regular school" are the opportunities it provides for individually and independence. In Ilios, students are allowed to accomodate their personal interests wh satisfying academic requirements at t same time.

Mini-courses offer short but intens classes varying from Women in Socie Yoga, Fine Arts and Spelling. Many Mi courses are not centered within t confines of B Wing. Instead, they are oft taught outside the typical classroo situation.

Ilios offers variety to SC

Most Iliots are concerned and involved individuals. Community projects gives these students the opportunity to put their concern and involvement to use within the community. To fulfill a community project requirement, some students hold volunteer jobs at the Whole Earth switchboard, while others tutor elementary school students or learn while they work at Cable Television.

There is a lot of strong individualism and motovation among Ilios students and they derive much satisfaction and just plain happiness from the freedom that Ilios offers them.

Certain subjects such as math and science are not offered in Ilios, for this reason Ilios students spend the first two periods of the day within the regular school before they return to their own unusual learning environment.

In short, Ilios is an extremely innovative and successful approach to learning.

Staff acknowledges excellence

What makes a school noted for it's excellence is not the school itself, but rather the students and administrators who contribute to it.

The yearbook staff has chosen to honor just a few of those students and administrators who have put forth continuous outstanding effort for the benefit of San Carlos High.

Pam Swan has been recognized as one of the finest female athletes to ever attend San Carlos High. She has shown conscientous leadership as the Girls Sports Commissioner and has worked diligently towards the success of the girls sports program. In addition, Pam contributes time as an assistant in the science department, and has been an accomplished flautist in the SC band for four years.

With great leadership in student government, and her fine academic record, Elizabeth Thomson has made numerous contributions to San Carlos. As well as being a basketball pompon girl and a hostess, Elizabeth has shown her leadership by holding many positions within the student government throughout her high school years. Maintaining an outstanding grade point average, Elizabeth is a member of CSF, MGM and is a Bank of America Award winner.

There is no mistaking the warmth and sincerity of Mr. O.C. Guinn, as he deals with students on a personal level. With genuine concern and an outgoing personality, it does not take Mr. Guinn long to turn a classroom of students into a group of friends as well. As advisor to the school newspaper and yearbook advisor until last year, Mr. Guinn devoted endless hours working with students to produce the highest rated newspaper and yearbook in the district.

Miss Mary Beech

Mary Sana

Howard Edelstein

Unfortunately, Miss Mary Beech is not well known to large numbers of students since she does not teach regular full size classes. Never the less, her impact on the students she works with is great. Miss Beech works with academically handicapped students in remedial classes. She works with students on a one to one basis with materials and methods designed to achieve success. Miss Beech frequently plans out of school activities for her students and functions as an all around teacher, counselor and friend.

Transfering to SC in her Junior year, Mary Sana has become completely involved with SC and the community. Mary has held the position of dance commissioner, and Senior Class Vice-President and Hostess. Additionally, Mary has been a candystriper at Sequoia Hospital and taught Red Cross swimming in the summertime.

For Howard Edelstein getting involved is a total commitment of time and energy until the job is done. The most obvious example of his dedication has been Howard's role in student government. Holding the office of student body President in his Senior year, he has initiated and organized countless activities. Outside of government, Howard has been a leader in forming the Spanish Club and the Red Cross Club. Club activities take members into the community to do volunteer work, which is nothing new to Howard, who is a devoted worker for Muscular Dystrophy and Easter Seals.

Individual gymnasts excel

This years gymnastics team didn't do as well as expected, they fell to disappointing fifth place in the district compulsory meet held here at San Carlos. However, some of the girls did do well in individual competition.

Placing ninth out of 52 girls in the Burlingame meet was novice Lori Serrano, with beginners Tina Blucher, Lissa Dunstan, Candy Lawson and Mary Mason placing.

Qualifying in the open division were intermediates Linda Lafaurie, fourth all-around; Kathy Vopat seventh all-around; and Margy Marshall ninth all-around.

Also qualifying was advanced gymnast Melinda Schmidt who is the only advanced gymnast on the team and in the district.

Next year the team hopes to have better equipment and to have their own uniforms. In addition, they feel that having more coaches, and above all start practicing earlier could improve the over all outcome of the team in the future.

Counselors help plan futures

The counseling department consists of 5 hard-working and devoted men and women who dedicate themselves to assist students in their total educational, social, personal and vocational growth needs. These counselors try to get all the information they can from each student regarding their needs and desires. Then, after discussing this with them, also tries to get all pertinent information regarding these needs and from this input helps the student make correct decisions. Sometimes the counselor needs to bring pressure to help students make correct decisions.

Mr. Don McClean stated "My job is to help students know as much as possible about himself and the world around him and, in light of that understanding, to make good decisions."

SC boys' tennis team returns

With the willingness to listen, and high hopes, the first boys' tennis team at San Carlos since 1968 began it's Spring season.

Math teacher Larry Trice, who once played tennis for SC himself, coached a team of 16 Varsity and Junior Varsity players. Although hampered by a lack of competitive experience, coach Trice says his team is well balanced. "We have a good chance to win against some of the weaker teams in the SPAL."

Varsity players are led by John Hirsekorn, a junior playing first singles. Unable to win against his first five opponents, Hirsekorn has gained valuable experience from his tough matches.

Sophomore John Weinkauf plays second singles. "John is a great competitor and has a willingness to listen when being coached," says Coach Trice.

Third on the Varsity ladder is Junior Greg Beatie. Greg plays men closer to his own ability and will add points for the squad.

Varsity doubles player Henry Quest stressed that he was glad to see that San Carlos finally had a boys' tennis team, "We might not win many matches in the league, but at least we are competing again."

SC students learn to drive right

Driving is a serious undertaking and a great responsibility. Sophomores at San Carlos High School recieve extensive training in driver education and driver training as do all Sophomores in the Sequoia Union High School District.

The course is divided into three basic areas of subject matter; driver training, driver education, and safety education.

The rules of the road are learned in driver education. The California State Vehicle Code must be mastered. Knowing traffic laws are an integral part of being a competent driver.

In driver training, students are required to spend at least fifteen hours behind the wheel under the direction of a qualified driver training instructor and an additional fifteen hours must be spent in the driver simulator. In this area skill behind the wheel is stressed. Defensive driving and effective ways of thinking and acting are also introduced.

Safety Education stresses the effect of alcohol and drugs on the driver. Drinking and drugs affect the driver's ability to identify the driving scene, and makes it difficult to accurately predict how traffic events will develop. It also affects his good judgement in making important driving decisions. By the end of the semester-long course in driving tactics, students are capable and eligible for their California Driver's license.

Artist Portray Talents!

From hand built pots to hands painted on canvas, and from buildings drawn in perspective to building ecology boxes, the art classes teach basic skills in creativity with hands. Complete absorption in their work marks many of the classes as students draw, paint, pot, weave, and work with plastics, make rings in the lost wax technique, and express themselves in other exciting projects. While the classes are structured to teach basic skills, much leeway is allowed for individual expression in the materials which are used.

Students can start out as beginners in crafts, ceramics and also the two dimensional areas. Opportunity is then given for them to advance in one of these specialized areas or to diversify in several of the art classes. There are no limits to the creativity and craftsmanship to which the student can apply himself. The teacher directs the activity, and the student, through his knowledge and imagination is then able to paint, draw, build, and pot new a original forms. He truly becomes a crea in his own right.

A space in time
is a finite concept.
To it is assigned a beginning and an end.
Perhaps something valuable was gained.
Hopefully a step
foreward was taken.
Perhaps it became clear that somewhere within the boundries that isolate this space in time,
each individual
had his own battles to be fought.

Nothing was promised,
but do not doubt that much was gained.
This is
a space in time.

KRAMER'S WORLD

Pat
It's fun knowing a guy who can play as great as you as you can. I will wish you a great summer and see you next year, keep up the great hoops.

Jesse V.

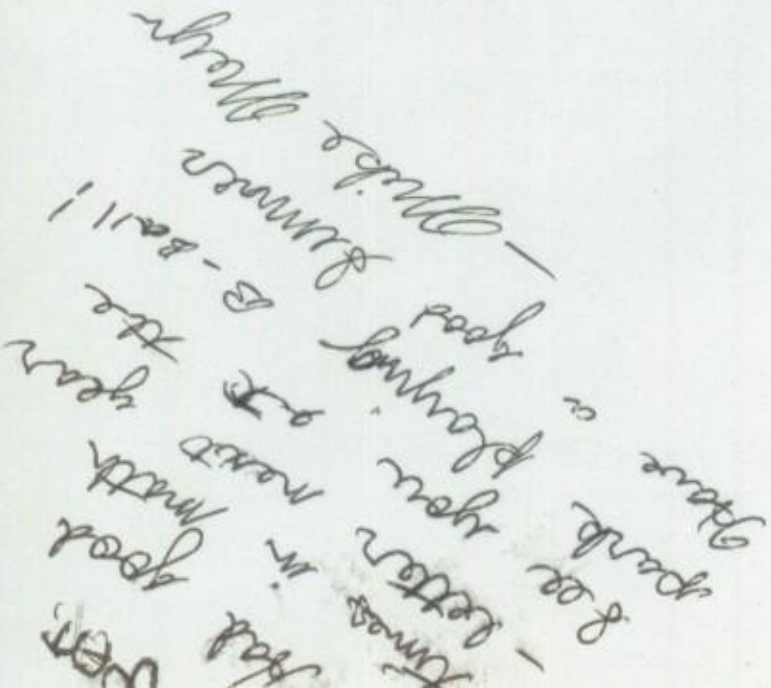
PAT: (ALIAS "Chet the Jet", Tiny, BAMBI LEGS)

NONE OF THE FOLLOWING IS, WAS, OR EVER WILL BE B.S,

WE FINALLY GOT IN A CLASS TOGETHER, AND I AM GLAD, BEGAUSE WHO ELSE WOULD I HIT? BESIDES THAT, I GAVE YOU SO MUCH CRAP ONLY A GOOD FRIEND LIKE YOU WOULD HAVE PUT UP WITH IT. ESPECIALLY WHEN I YELLED AT YOU DURING THE B-BALL GAME I WAS PLAYING LOUSY. WE WERE LOSING, SO I TOOK IT OUT ON YOU. IT WAS THE WORST, STUPIDIST THING I HAVE EVER DONE IN MY LIFE, AND IS CERTAINLY NOT THE MARK OF THE GREAT ATHLETE I'M SUPPOSED TO BE, NONE OF WHICH I BELIEVE ANYWAY. BUT AGAIN I AM ETERNALLY SORRY SORRY, AND I WILL NEVER BE ABLE TO LIVE IT DOWN, ESPECIALLY IN MY OWN MIND. THE GOOD TIMES THIS YEAR WERE REALLY GREAT, AND NEXT YEAR THEY'RE GONNA BE TWICE AS MANY. PAT, SERIOUSLY, YOU COULD BE THE BEST B-BALL PLAYER AT S.C. NEXT YEAR, IF YOU DEVELOP SELF-CONFIDENCE. YOU CAN'T GET DOWN ON YOURSELF, JUST BECAUSE OF A STUPID MISTAKE OR A MISSED SHOT. YOU SHOOT BETTER THAN ANY GUARD AND REBOUND LIKE A GUY YOUR HEIGHT SHOULD. YOU'LL MAKE IT BIG SOME DAY IF YOU DO THESE THINGS. I'M NOT A COACH BUT PLAYING WITH YOU THIS YEAR TAUGHT ME ALOT ABOUT YOU. THIS SUMMER I WANT TO SEE YOU ALOT, CAUSE GOOD COMPETITION LIKE YOURS WILL MAKE ME THAT MUCH BETTER FOR NEXT YEAR. YOU'RE REALLY A GREAT FRIEND, AND NEXT YEAR SEEING YOU GO IS GONNA BE HARD. BUT LET'S FORGET ABOUT LEAVING AND MAKE THE MOST OF IT WHILE WE GOT. IT. DON'T WORRY ABOUT K.K., THERE ARE OTHER FISH IN THE SEA. BEING YOUR FRIEND IS BEEN SO GREAT, YOU JUST DON'T KNOW. YOU NEVER CUT DOWN ANYBODY, AND THAT'S THE KIND OF FRIEND THAT ~~STAB~~ STANDS OUT IN MY MIND. PLEASE REMAIN MY FRIEND FOR SUMMER, NEXT YEAR, AND AFTER. THAT. THANKS ALOT FOR EVERYTHING

YOUR FRIEND,

Lou



PAT,
NEVER GO TO HALF MOON BAY. THEY DON'T LIKE YOU THERE. YOU BLOCK TOO MANY SHOTS. YOU SHOULD EAT SOME OF THEIR ARTICHOKES. TO FILL OUT YOUR BAMBI BODY.

Steve Sautz

Pat,

What can I say? You are one of the closest friends I have ever had and I thank you for that. You have to be one of the best guys I have ever known and you are a star! It has been great in B-ball these past three years and I have been in awe when you have continually burned me to a crisp. The times you smoked me with the Kareem Jabbar hook, the devestating jumper, snuffed my butt off, it has been unreal. Thanks for all the Moa-Moa's it has been great. Next year Selva is getting graduated, you will carry the team. Thanks for being such a good-man Pat, you are something else. Keep moving and grooving with the chicks and Ill see you this summer buddy. You are truly great! Good luck always,

Mark ("Opie") Parnes

Dear Pat-

Im so glad that we both got to be in English together. It was so much fun hassling Mcue. I hope we both can be in a class next year together. Stay the neat way that you are. I hope we can always be good-frends

Love Desi Davis

Tyni,

You are one of the altime Basketball players around. Keep playing basketball. Come and see me get snuffed whatever team Im goin to sit on.

PAT

YOU ARE A RUSS, AND A QUEER. NEXT YEAR JUST LIKE THIS YEAR YOU WILL BURN ME, AND SWAT ALL THE TIME. YOU ARE GREAT AND WILL BURN THE NETS NEXT YEAR. ME I'LL BE UP IN THE STAND'S. HAVE A GREAT SUMMER. SEE YOU AT THE PARK

LATER

Jim Zaage

Pat,

Did hear to much out of you in class, but now at the end of the YEAR your a little more rowdy! But not much. Bet I'll see ya this summer if I don't have fun

- HOW -

Pat,

To the next Wilt Chamberlain of S.C. The Pride of the "B-ball" team. Good luck next year + make 1st Team All-SPAL.

Always,
HONDO
Sedlacek

P.S.: Make the Pros for me!

PAT,

NEXT YEAR LETS NOT WASTE SCHOOL MONEY BY BLOCKING PEOPLE'S SHOT OUT OF THE GYM AND AT THE SAME TIME POPPING THE POOR THING. KEEP PRACTICING AND I CAN SEE THE HEADLINES WITH YOUR NAME, FOR VARSITY BBALL. SEE YA NEXT YEAR, UNFORTUNATELY,

JOHN

Pat, (Typing)

It has definitely been all my pleasure meeting you. Thanks to Signelli. I knew he wouldn't make it. I called it. It has been a fun year all the way around. In L'Dean's, on the bench during the B-ball games, fourth period. It has been a ball (Basket?) at lunch too. Suspension!!! Next year we will issue day passes unless you are going around with KK or Lori. I hope I am busy with you-know-who.

A SPACE IN TIME A SPACE IN TIME A SPACE IN TIME A SPAC

Thanks for listening to me every problem. Next year I'm going for it all (TEXAS). I hope she's at some of the U B-ball games. She will be because she's a cheerleader. You'll see my beard and mustache and sideburns next year. I am not going to shave all summer. Come on up to Roy Lloyd. We can get stoned (Tex) and some more guys and have a game. Thanks for all the rides home. I really appreciate it. See you in all my classes next year.

"Pistol" P.S. Basketball in '75 Rah Rah Rah. Good Luck

Reserved for June about 1/4 of the pg.

Pat, I was very depressed by what you wrote. If it is not true. Don't ever feel that way. I'm not that type of person. I hope that this summe will be a great one for you and that yo don't injure yourself playing Basketball. You know what happens when you do to much of a good thing?! I really do hope I bum into you something this summer and that you do somethings with everyone. You & Pa both at home to much. Next year it will be Great! You a Grea Guy don't change. I'll mis you. Love & Friendship (Always) June

Pat, I won't call you lunch, even though you have the ability to catch many punches, LUNCH have a bummer of a summer and hope you become champion in the summer, pal Mike Dorn

Pat; I'll be there to read your term paper

Pat,

Another year has gone by and our friendship has grown stronger. You are a great guy. It's hard for me to walk up to a guy and talk to him, but with you it's easy. Whenever your alone I want to come up to you and cheer you up. your so quiet. I hope you get the girl you really want (Karen Kennedy). If you need some help, I can talk to her for you, because I know her really good. Can you believe that we're going to be seniors. Love ya, see you in the summer and come to by Baseball games. Teri Right field is great.
